Corsi Dismissed From New Post

Differs Sharply With Walter About Refugees; Denies Red Associations

Washington, April 8 (AP)—The State Department is abolishing the job it gave only three months ago to Edward J. Corsi, who since has become the target of repeated attacks by Rep. Walter (D-Pa.).

Corsi confirmed last night that he is being dismissed, effective Sunday, as special consultant to Secretary of State Dulles on refugee and immigration problems. He said he was told Wednesday the job was "a temporary one" and that it was not being renewed.

"I would not have taken the job to begin with if I had known it was a 90-day appointment," Corsi said.

WALTER AND Corsi have differed sharply on basic immigration policy, but Walter has based his attacks largely on charges that Corsi had associated with Communist-dominated groups. Corsi has strongly denied the allegations.

Corsi had been industrial commissioner in New York state's Labor Department under Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for 11 years. His move to the State Department was part of the reshuffle as Democrat Averell Harriman took over the governor's office.

DULLES announced his appointment Dec. 30, making it effective Jan. 10 to give Corsi time for settlement of New York affairs. Associates said Corsi chose the post in preference to a higher paying indutrial mediation job offered him in New York.

Former President Hoover appointed him immigration and naturalization commissioner in 1931 and he stayed on into 1933 under the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He was Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate in New York in 1938.

Corsi said he was notified of his dismissal by Asst. Secretary of State Roy W. Henderson, who he said "wanted me clearly to understand my situation is not a matter of security."

State Department officials confirmed this and said they had not completed their investigation of Corsi's background and the charges Walter has made. At his home in Easton, Pa., Walter said he had no comment on the development.

CORSI SAID he was told he would be offered another unspecified post in the State Department, "but I have not made up my mind whether I care to continue or not."

Corsi was appointed by Dulles especially to speed up the refugee immigrant program. The law authorizes special admission

Realtors' President To Speak

Appraisal Data To Be Presented

RALPH R. BORCHARD

Ralph R. Borchard of Rochester, president of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards, will be the principal speaker at the Association's Lower Hudson Regional Conference to be held in Kingston on Wednesday, April 20.

Approximately 125 realtors are expected to attend the sessions, which will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The meeting will get under way at 10 a. m.

BORCHARD, who will address the noon session, has been in the real estate business since Jan. 1, 1925. He is a lecturer in appraisal courses at the University of Rochester in cooperation with the Rochester Real Estate Board.

Lawrence A. MacAvery of this city is regional vice president of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards. The Lower Hudson Region embraces the counties of Dutchess, Newburgh, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Ulster and Westchester.

THE ULSTER Board will be host to the conference this year. Previous regional conferences have been held at Bear Mountain Inn.

The meetings will be open to all interested persons, including bankers, builders, attorneys and others.

Members of the local ticket committee are H. Van Wyck Darrow, Richard F. Riseley and Raymond Craft. Benson Krom is president of the local board.

School Bids Are Deemed Too High

Bids for construction of a new kindergarten through Grade 6 school for Union Free School District No. 4 (Lake Katrine) in the town of Ulster were opened Thursday afternoon, but no action was taken because all bids exceeded the previously estimated costs, it was learned today.

The board of education of the school district will meet tonight to study the bids and decide on a future course of action.

Voters of the district approved a proposition for purchase of property and erection of a school building by a vote of 123 to 37 on January 7. Cost was fixed at not to exceed $396,000.

Police Still Question Widow on Clark Death

Fort Worth, Tex., April 8 (AP)—Police still questioned today the pretty blonde widow of an oilman who before his death accused her of luring him into marriage.

The officers were working hard, they said, on the story of an ex-convict who told them three months ago that a woman guaranteed $10,000 and jewelry if William P. Clark were slain in a robbery.

THE THREE-TIME loser, Harry Huggins, said he and two other men went to the Clark's home May 22, 1953, with the ex-convict posing as a messenger. Huggins' statement involved Leroy (Tincy) Eggleston, 48, a well-known gambler.

Dist. Judge Dave McGee set a habeas corpus hearing today (2 p. m., CST) for Mrs. Clark, Eggleston and a former Fort Worth police detective, whose identity has not been divulged.

HUGGINS, 48, told police that Clark was shot behind the ear by one of the trio while he and the other man were searching the house. He said he asked the man who remained with Clark why he shot the oilman.

"That was part of the deal," the former convict said his companion replied.

Clark's body was found in the home, a rifle nearby. An original suicide verdict was later changed to one for murder.

CLARK, 61, filed an annulment suit against his 46-year-old wife just 12 days before his death. He alleged that Mrs. Clark "made false representa-

Good Friday Observed With Solemnity Here

Kingston joined the rest of the Christian World today in solemn observance of Good Friday.

Uptown Protestant churches combined in a three-hour service in the Fair Street Reformed Church. Catholic churches were opened in the afternoon for three-hour visitations, prayer and Stations of the Cross, and offered in each during the morning, was the Mass of the Presanctified Host.

Other Protestant churches scheduled services either in the afternoon or evening, or both, and ministers participating in the union service, led meditations on the Seven Words of the Cross. Stations of the Cross were also due to be held at night in Catholic churches.

Many businesses, offices, municipal departments and some industries closed at noon in observance of the solemn day. This permitted large attendances at the various afternoon services.

The Seven Last Words by Wessel was sung by a women's chorus from the senior choir of the Fair Street Reformed Church at the service there.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang in a special Good Friday proclamation yesterday stressed that Good Friday was a day of prayer and meditation, and he asked the people of the city "to repair to their respective places of worship for such devotion."

This, the Associated Press noted, was a worldwide trend, as Christians made pilgrimage to Good Friday services, commemorating the death of Christ on the cross.

The faithful marked the crucifixion with centuries-old ceremonies in village church and vast cathedral, and more than 100,000 from many lands converged on St. Peter's Basilica in Vatican City to attend the Solemn Mass of the Presanctified Host there.

IN THE HOLY LAND some 5,000 pilgrims, many of whom had to pass through the "No Man's Land" dividing warring Israel and Jordan, flocked into Arab Jerusalem.

Once again they followed the narrow, twisting cobblestoned Via Dolorosa—the Way of the Cross. Gathered according to nationality, each group bore at its head a massive cross as they halted briefly at each of the 14 Stations of the Cross.

THE PROCESSION formed a few hundred yards inside Jerusalem's east wall where Christ was tried before Pontius Pilate. Its route followed the path which tradition says Christ's burdened steps took to Calvary, the site now of the sprawling Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

In the United States Catholic and Protestant churches from coast to coast threw open their doors for Good Friday services. Many scheduled three-hour sermons commemorating the hours of the Cross.

A VAST THRONG of Argentines turned out in Buenos Aires for Holy Week observances, although their church and President Peron's government have been at bitter odds for months.

Yesterday, an estimated 100,000 marched in the traditional Holy Thursday parade in Peron's capital. It was the first religious procession allowed in Argentina in four months.

The procession was orderly, but marchers defied government orders to main streets and paraded directly to Buenos Aires Cathedral.

Low Bidders Named By City Water Board

Philadelphia Firm Gets Pipe Order; Yonetti, Davis, Martin-Moran Chosen

Bids for the purchase of new pipe, the extension of water service, the painting of the Florence street tank, and purchase of a new pickup truck were opened at a regular water board meeting last night.

The Board voted to purchase from R. D. Wood Co., Philadelphia, Pa., 2,000 feet of cast iron pipe at $4.900 to add to the department's reserve for future extension projects.

Leo Yonetti, of Bloomington, at $2,200 was low bidder for the painting of the 500,000-gallon tank in the Florence street area, and Albert E. Davis of West Hurley, at $2,350 bid low for excavation and backfill on extension of water service (an eight-inch main) on Dietz Court and Melvin Drive, a distance of about 800 feet.

THE BOARD also voted to purchase a three-quarter-ton Dodge pickup truck from Martin-Moran, Inc., 450 East Chester street.

Bids on the painting and extension projects were left with the board's extension and improvement committee and Edmund T. Cloonan, department superintendent, for study before final award, and also left with the committee was a request by Kingston Park Inc., for an extension of about 2,000 feet for the 71-lot development project on the former Brinnier property off Kiersted avenue.

OTHER BIDDERS on the painting project were Joseph "Kid" Moore, $2,390 and J. J. Hass Co., Inc., at $2,680. The tank, which was formerly painted like a red and white beach ball because of nearness, when constructed, to the then-exisiting Kingston-Ulster airport, will be painted a light gray, similar to that on the new tank off Pearl street.

Other bidders on the Dietz Court and Melvin Drive extension project were Trobridge Bros., Olive Bridge, $2,793.75; C & E Construction Co., Poughkeepsie, $2,850; James Berardi, Kingston, $3,420; and Joseph Grner, of Highland, $3,455.

SUPERINTENDENT Cloonan reported today that the new tank in the Pearl street area is expected to be in service by May 1. Installation of required 16-inch pipeline have been completed and work on the pumping station is about finished.

Work is also nearing completion on the new building at the equalizing reservoir and that is expected to be finished about May 15. Also about finished is the installation of 1,900 feet of 12 inch pipe from the West Chester street area to the Benedictone Hospital to provide better water service and fire protection there.

High Falls Truck Upsets at Intersection

A truck operated by Jesse Williams, 45, of Main street, High Falls, overturned on Route 209 near the intersection of the High Falls road about 3:45 p. m. Thursday, according to a sheriff's office report.

Williams, who was not reported injured, told Deputy Sheriffs Benjamin Newkirk and Chester Wolven that the accident occurred when he was forced to swerve off the road to avoid another vehicle. The front end, left side and body of the truck were damaged.

To Observe FDR Death

Hyde Park, April 8 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman will observe the 10th anniversary of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's death by laying a wreath on his grave here Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. Harriman served in a number of high federal posts during the Roosevelt administration.

Court of Appeals Rule Favors Operators Of Shanty Store; Case Goes Back to 1948

The Shanty Store appeared firmly entrenched in its quarters at 326 Fair street today when it became known that the Court of Appeals has dismissed the appeal from an order of the Appellate Division upholding, in effect, the deed held on the premises by the Shanty Store operators.

The building, located on Fair street near the corner of North Front street, has been the subject of legal debate since 1948.

IN THAT YEAR, following the sale of the building to Crosby-Mertz, Inc., then operators of the Shanty Store, an action was begun by Harry Gilbert asking the deed be declared void due to certain prior options and assignments of options.

The issue was not joined until Feb. 5, 1952, when it went to Supreme Court. A decision by that court in February, 1953, ruled against Crosby-Mertz, Inc., and said that Harry Gilbert was entitled to conveyance.

CROSBY-MERTZ, INC., took an appeal and on Sept. 20 of that year the Appellate Division reversed the Supreme Court decision. This reversal left the Shanty Store operators in possession of the building.

Gilbert then filed notice of appeal on Nov. 6, 1954, and the case was carried to the Court of Appeals.

The law firm of Veraldi, Van Fleet and Eager of Middletown, representing Crosby-Mertz, Inc., moved for dismissal of the appeal on the grounds that an undertaking had not been filed as required by the Civil Practice Act.

THE COURT of Appeals issued an order giving Gilbert 10 days in which to file the undertaking and 20 days in which to file the printed record of the case on appeal.

On March 11, this year, there having been no undertaking or printed record filed, the Court of Appeals granted the motion to dismiss the appeal.

Crosby-Mertz, Inc., remains a corporation continuing as a party to the action, although the store currently is operated by John J. Mertz and John J. Mertz Jr.

President Thinks U. S. Tells Russia Too Much

Eden's Shakeup Lowers Age Level of Cabinet

Small Number of Changes Is Sign He Might Call for Election May 26

NEW BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY — Harold Macmillan, former Defense Minister, was named British Foreign Secretary April 7 by Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, who vacated the post to succeed Sir Winston Churchill, retired Prime Minister. (AP Wirephoto).

London, April 8 (AP)—Britain had a slightly younger cabinet today following Prime Minister Eden's first government shakeup. The major changes were the shift of Defense Minister Harold Macmillan to the foreign ministry and the elevation of Selwyn Lloyd from supply minister to the defense job.

The new appointments were announced last night after Eden's first cabinet meeting since he took over Wednesday from Sir Winston Churchill. They cut almost three years off the average age of the 18 ministers, reducing it from 58 years 6 months to 55 years 8 months. Eden himself is 57.

THE RESHUFFLE also involved nine other government posts, including one cabinet job, two non-cabinet ministries and six lower level appointments.

The comparatively small number of changes—generally considered about the fewest Eden could make without retaining the foreign ministry—increased still more the speculation that he may be planning to call a general election soon, possibly May 26.

The Conservative party still must pick a deputy leader to fill the gap left when Eden stepped up to the party chieftainship. Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler has been generally regarded as next in line after Eden.

MacMILLAN'S appointment to the foreign ministry—the post Eden held before Churchill's retirement Tuesday—had been widely predicted. Like Churchill, he is half American. His mother is the former Helen Tarleton Belles of Spencer, Ind.

A diplomatic trouble-shooter during World War 2, the handsome, 60-year-old Macmillan was named housing and local government minister when the Conservatives came to power in 1951. His success at that job led to his appointment to the defense ministry last October.

LIKE BOTH Eden and Churchill, he is a staunch friend of the United States and a believer in step-by-step diplomacy.

Lloyd is a genial bustling lawyer who made his mark as one of Eden's two ministers of state at the foreign office. Before taking over the supply ministry six months ago, he was Britain's chief delegate at the United Nations. There he gained renown for his agility in debates with Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

The other cabinet change involved the secretaryship for Commonwealth relations. Viscount Swinton, 70, retired from the post and was replaced by the Earl of Home. Swinton was awarded an earldom, a step up in the peerage, for his work in Churchill's administration.

THESE WERE the two non-cabinet ministry replacements:

Reginald Maudling, former economic secretary to the treasury, was given Lloyd's old supply ministry. A 40-year-old "bright boy" of the Churchill administration, Maudling was given a cabinet minister's salary—5,000 pounds ($14,000) a year—even though he did not get a seat on the top council.

Dr. Charles Hill, 51, a popular radio personality and former junior official in the health ministry, was named postmaster general, succeeding Earl De La Warr, who resigned.

Check Is Asked on Air Threat

Action Is Sought If Danger Mounts

Washington, April 8 (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D.-Ala.) said today it would be "folly" to allow the Chinese Communists to continue building up air strength opposite Formosa "once it becomes their purpose to launch an attack."

But unless President Eisenhower decides "that the concentrations have developed to a point where the United States itself should act," Sparkman said in an intervew, the Chinese Nationalists should not be allowed to bomb air bases and other installations reportedly under construction along the South China coast.

ONE REPUBLICAN senator asking anonymity said the Eisenhower administration is scrutinizing information from Formosa that the reported buildup could give Red China's Air Force supremacy over the Formosa strait.

Gen. Sun Li-jen, Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek's personal chief of staff, said in Formosa yesterday that when the Communists have completed building new jet airfields they can challenge the combined air and navy superiority of the Nationalists and the United States.

ADMINISTRATION officials, questioned on Gen. Sun's statement, said only that all questions involved in a buildup of Communist forces along the coast have been under study for

Wharton Sits In On CC Discussion

A wide variety of topics were discussed at a special luncheon meeting Thursday at which Congressman J. Ernest Wharton was the guest of honor, sponsored by the National Legislative Affairs Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. Edward C. Craig, chairman of the committee presided.

The purpose of the meeting was to get acquainted with Congressman Wharton and discuss national issues of local interest.

SUBJECTS COVERED included foreign trade, highway program, minimum wages, federal aid to schools, universal military training, the national budget and taxes, the Far East situation involving Formosa, and the improvement of the Hudson river channel. The best and most practical way of communicating

Longshoremen Report Despite Slowdown Bid

New York, April 8 (AP)—Despite a union-directed slowdown, Brooklyn longshoremen reported for work today practically on schedule.

Only two of 184 gangs on the docks were more than 10 minutes late in starting work, a waterfront commission spokesman said. This was about the "normal delay."

ONE GANG on a 35th street pier waited 45-minutes, and another gang on a 33rd street pier waited 30 minutes for "fill-ins"—replacements for workers missing or ill. These delays cost employers less than $100 in all, he estimated.

"By and large it was a normal day on the Brooklyn docks."

Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia, boss of the Brooklyn docks and a vice president of the International Longshoremen's Association (Ind.), ordered the slowdown yesterday and told workers to stay away from hiring centers until 7:55 a. m., 5 minutes before the regular start-work whistle.

ANASTASIA said the slowdown is a protest against "connivers" among the stevedoring companies who he said were taking advantage of new waterfront regulations to violate traditional customs and practices on the piers.

Stringent new hiring and employment regulations were put into effect April 1 by the waterfront commission of New York harbor. The union opposes the new rules on the grounds that they infringe on its bargaining rights and give the New York-New Jersey commission too much power. The commission contends the rules are needed to keep the piers free of racketeering.

Anastasia, in issuing the slowdown order at a mass meeting of 3,000 cheering longshoremen yesterday, said he would not call a strike because of the new regulations.

Telling the workers he wants them to "obey the law in the port of New York," he declared the union in Brooklyn has no intention of "fighting the waterfront commission. The union's purpose, he said, is to drive the "conniving contracting stevedores and steamship companies out of business.

Anastasia did not identify his targets. He said he does not feel that the waterfront commission is an "enemy" of the longshoremen.

Archbishop Denies Making Statement About Marriage

London, April 8 (AP) — The Archbishop of Canterbury today denied he ever said that "there is no truth whatsover in the rumor that Princess Margaret and Group Capt. Peter Townsend are to wed."

The archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, was reached by radio telephone in Grahamstown, South Africa. He said he replied simply "no comment" when a reporter asked him about the rumors on his arrival in Capetown yesterday.

DR. FISHER SAID today he had not commented on the subject and would not comment on it now.

The statement he denied appeared first in a newspaper in Capetown. The archbishop and his wife are starting a two-month visit in South, Central and East Africa.

Reports have persisted that Princess Margaret, who is 24, and Townsend, 40, and a divorced man, are in love and hope to overcome the obstacles standing in the way of their marriage.

THE CHURCH of England opposes the remarriage of divorced persons whose first spouses remain alive. Townsend's former wife, whom he divorced on grounds of adultery, lives in England and has remarried.

Dr. Fisher is the ranking prelate of the Church of England. A previous archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Cosmo Lang, played a leading part in forcing the abdication of King Edward VIII when he insisted on marrying the American divorcee, Mrs. Wallis Simpson.

ANOTHER of Margaret's frequent companions, Billy Wallace, today brushed off an American radio report that the princess might be about to marry him.

"I wish people would stop playing these games. I have nothing whatever to say," he declared in Rome, where he is spending a brief holiday.

Wallace is the stepson of Herbert Agar, American writer and former newspaper editor.

Reporters Claim News Blackout

Eisenhower Is Much Disturbed

Washington, April 8 (AP)—The White House said today President Eisenhower believes "technical military secrets" have been made available "to the enemy" through publication of such information in this country.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, told newsmen that Eisenhower is disturbed about the situation.

Hagerty declined, however, to discuss the question of whether Eisenhower's views are related to new Defense Department information control directives put into effect last week by Secretary of Defense Wilson.

HAGERTY SAID he was not going to discuss the situation in the Pentagon.

Hagerty was asked at a news conference for comment on a New York Herald Tribune story saying the President "is deeply concerned over what he regards as an excessive flow of military information from this country to the Soviet Union."

The dispatch by Walter Kerr of the newspaper's Washington Bureau added:

"He (the President) thinks the United States is telling the Russians too much. He thinks the Russians are profiting from it.

THIS IS THE explanation for the strict directives issued at the Pentagon last week by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson."

Wilson in effect banned release of any information without prior clearance through his office where he directed that it was to be checked both for security and for whether it was in accordance with policy.

Some reporters have protested it is a virtual blackout on information.

A REPORTER asked Hagerty whether the Pentagon directives represented a change of mind on the part of the President with respect to past statements that he does not believe in censorship.

The newsman noted that the President, shortly after he took office, stated that information restrictions were intended only to protect national security data and should not be administered in any way which would amount to censorship of legitimate news.

Hagerty repeated that he was not going to discuss the situation in the Defense Department. Then he added:

"I THINK I could say this: The President never has believed in censorship of legitimate news. At his press conference and in his executive order (on security matters) he has expressed that belief and has translated it into action.

"However, he has also always believed there is no reason to make available to the enemy technical military secrets which by their issuance could do nothing but hurt the interests of the United States.

"To that extent, and only to that extent would we ask that that sort of information be withheld from general circulation.

"HE DOES not believe that in other instances security or security regulations should be used by any branch of the government to cover up the publication of legitimate news."

Asked whether Eisenhower feels that "technical military secrets" have been made available to the enemy through publication of such data in this country, Hagerty replied:

"We have felt that such technical information has been made available."

Asked whether Eisenhower had given his views to Wilson on that matter, Hagerty said:

"You will have to ask the secretary."

Asked to cite some specific examples of technical military secrets which may have been disclosed to an enemy, Hagerty refused on the grounds that to be specific might be of further help to an enemy.

A VAST THRONG of Argentines turned out in Buenos Aires for Holy Week observances, although their church and President Peron's government have been at bitter odds for months.

Yesterday, an estimated 100,000 marched in the traditional Holy Thursday parade in Peron's capital. It was the first religious procession allowed in Argentina in four months.

The procession was orderly, but marchers defied government orders to main streets and paraded directly to Buenos Aires Cathedral.

Low Bidders Named By City Water Board

Philadelphia Firm Gets Pipe Order; Yonetti, Davis, Martin-Moran Chosen

Bids for the purchase of new pipe, the extension of water service, the painting of the Florence street tank, and purchase of a new pickup truck were opened at a regular water board meeting last night.

The Board voted to purchase from R. D. Wood Co., Philadelphia, Pa., 2,000 feet of cast iron pipe at $4.900 to add to the department's reserve for future extension projects.

Leo Yonetti, of Bloomington, at $2,200 was low bidder for the painting of the 500,000-gallon tank in the Florence street area, and Albert E. Davis of West Hurley, at $2,350 bid low for excavation and backfill on extension of water service (an eight-inch main) on Dietz Court and Melvin Drive, a distance of about 800 feet.

THE BOARD also voted to purchase a three-quarter-ton Dodge pickup truck from Martin-Moran, Inc., 450 East Chester street.

Bids on the painting and extension projects were left with the board's extension and improvement committee and Edmund T. Cloonan, department superintendent, for study before final award, and also left with the committee was a request by Kingston Park Inc., for an extension of about 2,000 feet for the 71-lot development project on the former Brinnier property off Kiersted avenue.

OTHER BIDDERS on the painting project were Joseph "Kid" Moore, $2,390 and J. J. Hass Co., Inc., at $2,680. The tank, which was formerly painted like a red and white beach ball because of nearness, when constructed, to the then-exisiting Kingston-Ulster airport, will be painted a light gray, similar to that on the new tank off Pearl street.

Other bidders on the Dietz Court and Melvin Drive extension project were Trobridge Bros., Olive Bridge, $2,793.75; C & E Construction Co., Poughkeepsie, $2,850; James Berardi, Kingston, $3,420; and Joseph Grner, of Highland, $3,455.

SUPERINTENDENT Cloonan reported today that the new tank in the Pearl street area is expected to be in service by May 1. Installation of required 16-inch pipeline have been completed and work on the pumping station is about finished.

Work is also nearing completion on the new building at the equalizing reservoir and that is expected to be finished about May 15. Also about finished is the installation of 1,900 feet of 12 inch pipe from the West Chester street area to the Benedictone Hospital to provide better water service and fire protection there.

Court of Appeals Rule Favors Operators Of Shanty Store; Case Goes Back to 1948

The Shanty Store appeared firmly entrenched in its quarters at 326 Fair street today when it became known that the Court of Appeals has dismissed the appeal from an order of the Appellate Division upholding, in effect, the deed held on the premises by the Shanty Store operators.

The building, located on Fair street near the corner of North Front street, has been the subject of legal debate since 1948.

IN THAT YEAR, following the sale of the building to Crosby-Mertz, Inc., then operators of the Shanty Store, an action was begun by Harry Gilbert asking the deed be declared void due to certain prior options and assignments of options.

The issue was not joined until Feb. 5, 1952, when it went to Supreme Court. A decision by that court in February, 1953, ruled against Crosby-Mertz, Inc., and said that Harry Gilbert was entitled to conveyance.

CROSBY-MERTZ, INC., took an appeal and on Sept. 20 of that year the Appellate Division reversed the Supreme Court decision. This reversal left the Shanty Store operators in possession of the building.

Gilbert then filed notice of appeal on Nov. 6, 1954, and the case was carried to the Court of Appeals.

The law firm of Veraldi, Van Fleet and Eager of Middletown, representing Crosby-Mertz, Inc., moved for dismissal of the appeal on the grounds that an undertaking had not been filed as required by the Civil Practice Act.

THE COURT of Appeals issued an order giving Gilbert 10 days in which to file the undertaking and 20 days in which to file the printed record of the case on appeal.

On March 11, this year, there having been no undertaking or printed record filed, the Court of Appeals granted the motion to dismiss the appeal.

Crosby-Mertz, Inc., remains a corporation continuing as a party to the action, although the store currently is operated by John J. Mertz and John J. Mertz Jr.

President Thinks U. S. Tells Russia Too Much

Eden's Shakeup Lowers Age Level of Cabinet

Small Number of Changes Is Sign He Might Call for Election May 26

London, April 8 (AP)—Britain had a slightly younger cabinet today following Prime Minister Eden's first government shakeup. The major changes were the shift of Defense Minister Harold Macmillan to the foreign ministry and the elevation of Selwyn Lloyd from supply minister to the defense job.

The new appointments were announced last night after Eden's first cabinet meeting since he took over Wednesday from Sir Winston Churchill. They cut almost three years off the average age of the 18 ministers, reducing it from 58 years 6 months to 55 years 8 months. Eden himself is 57.

NEW BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY — Harold Macmillan, former Defense Minister, was named British Foreign Secretary April 7 by Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, who vacated the post to succeed Sir Winston Churchill, retired Prime Minister. (AP Wirephoto).

THE RESHUFFLE also involved nine other government posts, including one cabinet job, two non-cabinet ministries and six lower level appointments.

The comparatively small number of changes—generally considered about the fewest Eden could make without retaining the foreign ministry—increased still more the speculation that he may be planning to call a general election soon, possibly May 26.

The Conservative party still must pick a deputy leader to fill the gap left when Eden stepped up to the party chieftainship. Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler has been generally regarded as next in line after Eden.

MacMILLAN'S appointment to the foreign ministry—the post Eden held before Churchill's retirement Tuesday—had been widely predicted. Like Churchill, he is half American. His mother is the former Helen Tarleton Belles of Spencer, Ind.

A diplomatic trouble-shooter during World War 2, the handsome, 60-year-old Macmillan was named housing and local government minister when the Conservatives came to power in 1951. His success at that job led to his appointment to the defense ministry last October.

LIKE BOTH Eden and Churchill, he is a staunch friend of the United States and a believer in step-by-step diplomacy.

Lloyd is a genial bustling lawyer who made his mark as one of Eden's two ministers of state at the foreign office. Before taking over the supply ministry six months ago, he was Britain's chief delegate at the United Nations. There he gained renown for his agility in debates with Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

The other cabinet change involved the secretaryship for Commonwealth relations. Viscount Swinton, 70, retired from the post and was replaced by the Earl of Home. Swinton was awarded an earldom, a step up in the peerage, for his work in Churchill's administration.

THESE WERE the two non-cabinet ministry replacements:

Reginald Maudling, former economic secretary to the treasury, was given Lloyd's old supply ministry. A 40-year-old "bright boy" of the Churchill administration, Maudling was given a cabinet minister's salary—5,000 pounds ($14,000) a year—even though he did not get a seat on the top council.

Dr. Charles Hill, 51, a popular radio personality and former junior official in the health ministry, was named postmaster general, succeeding Earl De La Warr, who resigned.

Check Is Asked on Air Threat

Action Is Sought If Danger Mounts

Washington, April 8 (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D.-Ala.) said today it would be "folly" to allow the Chinese Communists to continue building up air strength opposite Formosa "once it becomes their purpose to launch an attack."

But unless President Eisenhower decides "that the concentrations have developed to a point where the United States itself should act," Sparkman said in an intervew, the Chinese Nationalists should not be allowed to bomb air bases and other installations reportedly under construction along the South China coast.

ONE REPUBLICAN senator asking anonymity said the Eisenhower administration is scrutinizing information from Formosa that the reported buildup could give Red China's Air Force supremacy over the Formosa strait.

Gen. Sun Li-jen, Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek's personal chief of staff, said in Formosa yesterday that when the Communists have completed building new jet airfields they can challenge the combined air and navy superiority of the Nationalists and the United States.

ADMINISTRATION officials, questioned on Gen. Sun's statement, said only that all questions involved in a buildup of Communist forces along the coast have been under study for

Longshoremen Report Despite Slowdown Bid

New York, April 8 (AP)—Despite a union-directed slowdown, Brooklyn longshoremen reported for work today practically on schedule.

Only two of 184 gangs on the docks were more than 10 minutes late in starting work, a waterfront commission spokesman said. This was about the "normal delay."

ONE GANG on a 35th street pier waited 45-minutes, and another gang on a 33rd street pier waited 30 minutes for "fill-ins"—replacements for workers missing or ill. These delays cost employers less than $100 in all, he estimated.

"By and large it was a normal day on the Brooklyn docks."

Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia, boss of the Brooklyn docks and a vice president of the International Longshoremen's Association (Ind.), ordered the slowdown yesterday and told workers to stay away from hiring centers until 7:55 a. m., 5 minutes before the regular start-work whistle.

ANASTASIA said the slowdown is a protest against "connivers" among the stevedoring companies who he said were taking advantage of new waterfront regulations to violate traditional customs and practices on the piers.

Stringent new hiring and employment regulations were put into effect April 1 by the waterfront commission of New York harbor. The union opposes the new rules on the grounds that they infringe on its bargaining rights and give the New York-New Jersey commission too much power. The commission contends the rules are needed to keep the piers free of racketeering.

Anastasia, in issuing the slowdown order at a mass meeting of 3,000 cheering longshoremen yesterday, said he would not call a strike because of the new regulations.

Telling the workers he wants them to "obey the law in the port of New York," he declared the union in Brooklyn has no intention of "fighting the waterfront commission. The union's purpose, he said, is to drive the "conniving contracting stevedores and steamship companies out of business.

Anastasia did not identify his targets. He said he does not feel that the waterfront commission is an "enemy" of the longshoremen.

Archbishop Denies Making Statement About Marriage

London, April 8 (AP) — The Archbishop of Canterbury today denied he ever said that "there is no truth whatsover in the rumor that Princess Margaret and Group Capt. Peter Townsend are to wed."

The archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, was reached by radio telephone in Grahamstown, South Africa. He said he replied simply "no comment" when a reporter asked him about the rumors on his arrival in Capetown yesterday.

DR. FISHER SAID today he had not commented on the subject and would not comment on it now.

The statement he denied appeared first in a newspaper in Capetown. The archbishop and his wife are starting a two-month visit in South, Central and East Africa.

Reports have persisted that Princess Margaret, who is 24, and Townsend, 40, and a divorced man, are in love and hope to overcome the obstacles standing in the way of their marriage.

THE CHURCH of England opposes the remarriage of divorced persons whose first spouses remain alive. Townsend's former wife, whom he divorced on grounds of adultery, lives in England and has remarried.

Dr. Fisher is the ranking prelate of the Church of England. A previous archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Cosmo Lang, played a leading part in forcing the abdication of King Edward VIII when he insisted on marrying the American divorcee, Mrs. Wallis Simpson.

ANOTHER of Margaret's frequent companions, Billy Wallace, today brushed off an American radio report that the princess might be about to marry him.

"I wish people would stop playing these games. I have nothing whatever to say," he declared in Rome, where he is spending a brief holiday.

Wallace is the stepson of Herbert Agar, American writer and former newspaper editor.

Reporters Claim News Blackout

Eisenhower Is Much Disturbed

Washington, April 8 (AP)—The White House said today President Eisenhower believes "technical military secrets" have been made available "to the enemy" through publication of such information in this country.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, told newsmen that Eisenhower is disturbed about the situation.

Hagerty declined, however, to discuss the question of whether Eisenhower's views are related to new Defense Department information control directives put into effect last week by Secretary of Defense Wilson.

HAGERTY SAID he was not going to discuss the situation in the Pentagon.

Hagerty was asked at a news conference for comment on a New York Herald Tribune story saying the President "is deeply concerned over what he regards as an excessive flow of military information from this country to the Soviet Union."

The dispatch by Walter Kerr of the newspaper's Washington Bureau added:

"He (the President) thinks the United States is telling the Russians too much. He thinks the Russians are profiting from it.

THIS IS THE explanation for the strict directives issued at the Pentagon last week by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson."

Wilson in effect banned release of any information without prior clearance through his office where he directed that it was to be checked both for security and for whether it was in accordance with policy.

Some reporters have protested it is a virtual blackout on information.

A REPORTER asked Hagerty whether the Pentagon directives represented a change of mind on the part of the President with respect to past statements that he does not believe in censorship.

The newsman noted that the President, shortly after he took office, stated that information restrictions were intended only to protect national security data and should not be administered in any way which would amount to censorship of legitimate news.

Hagerty repeated that he was not going to discuss the situation in the Defense Department. Then he added:

"I THINK I could say this: The President never has believed in censorship of legitimate news. At his press conference and in his executive order (on security matters) he has expressed that belief and has translated it into action.

"However, he has also always believed there is no reason to make available to the enemy technical military secrets which by their issuance could do nothing but hurt the interests of the United States.

"To that extent, and only to that extent would we ask that that sort of information be withheld from general circulation.

"HE DOES not believe that in other instances security or security regulations should be used by any branch of the government to cover up the publication of legitimate news."

Asked whether Eisenhower feels that "technical military secrets" have been made available to the enemy through publication of such data in this country, Hagerty replied:

"We have felt that such technical information has been made available."

Asked whether Eisenhower had given his views to Wilson on that matter, Hagerty said:

"You will have to ask the secretary."

Asked to cite some specific examples of technical military secrets which may have been disclosed to an enemy, Hagerty refused on the grounds that to be specific might be of further help to an enemy.

Corsi Dismissed

for 214,000 immigrants by the end of 1956, but only about 22,000 have been given visas to enter the United States since the program became effective 17 months ago.

At the time of his appointment, Dulles addressed Corsi as "My dear friend," and said he was the man best qualified in the United States to get the program moving.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower, at his news conference last week, said he knew nothing of Walter's charges, but that Dulles had said Corsi was very valuable in the post.

Walter has charged repeatedly that Corsi was associated with the committee for the protection of the foreign born, an organization since listed by the attorney general as subversive. He has said Corsi's name appeared on a 1940 pamphlet of the organization as a member of the board of directors.

CORSI HAS denied membership in the organization and has said any such use of his name was unauthorized.

Walter also declared that Corsi was associated with the National Lawyers Guild, now fighting to avert a subversive listing by the attorney general, and the United Office and Professional Workers Union (UOPWA), which was ousted by the CIO in 1950 as Communist-dominated. Walter later said he was in error in mentioning the Lawyers' Guild.

Corsi, a former New York state industrial commissioner, said he may have addressed a union dinner in that capacity, but has denied membership or any direct association.

WALTER'S LATEST attack came last Monday, when he said he had "documentary evidence" of the charges he had made. He accused Corsi also of pledging himself to "junk" certain immigration laws and of "calling legislators—in effect—Nazis and candidates for an insane asylum" for their support of such laws.

Walter is the co-author in the McCarran - Walter Immigration Law which he said Corsi thus attacked in testimony in 1952.

Corsi himself came to this country from Italy as a 9-year-old immigrant in 1906. He served for a time in the early 1930s as U. S. commissioner of immigration and naturalization, and later as welfare director and industrial commissioner of New York state.

many weeks. These officials reflected no special sense of alarm or urgency.

Nationalist China has agreed, in connection with its mutual defense treaty with the United States, not to launch any attacks against the mainland without U. S. agreement. Sparkman said this agreement covers bombing of the mainland.

NATIONALIST warplanes have repeatedly bombed Communist coastal shipping but have not attacked any mainland points.

If the Nationalists did launch bombing forays over the mainland, Sparkman said, Red China certainly would retaliate. That would "almost insure war," Sparkman said, and he continued:

"It would be folly, however, to let a buildup continue beyond a stage where their purpose is apparent and the threat real. This will bear close watching and I am certain the administration is watching it. If the President comes to the conclusion that the Communist purpose is to invade Formosa and represents a real threat, then it would be up to us to act."

Corsi Dismissed

for 214,000 immigrants by the end of 1956, but only about 22,000 have been given visas to enter the United States since the program became effective 17 months ago.

At the time of his appointment, Dulles addressed Corsi as "My dear friend," and said he was the man best qualified in the United States to get the program moving.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower, at his news conference last week, said he knew nothing of Walter's charges, but that Dulles had said Corsi was very valuable in the post.

Walter has charged repeatedly that Corsi was associated with the committee for the protection of the foreign born, an organization since listed by the attorney general as subversive. He has said Corsi's name appeared on a 1940 pamphlet of the organization as a member of the board of directors.

CORSI HAS denied membership in the organization and has said any such use of his name was unauthorized.

Walter also declared that Corsi was associated with the National Lawyers Guild, now fighting to avert a subversive listing by the attorney general, and the United Office and Professional Workers Union (UOPWA), which was ousted by the CIO in 1950 as Communist-dominated. Walter later said he was in error in mentioning the Lawyers' Guild.

Corsi, a former New York state industrial commissioner, said he may have addressed a union dinner in that capacity, but has denied membership or any direct association.

WALTER'S LATEST attack came last Monday, when he said he had "documentary evidence" of the charges he had made. He accused Corsi also of pledging himself to "junk" certain immigration laws and of "calling legislators—in effect—Nazis and candidates for an insane asylum" for their support of such laws.

Walter is the co-author in the McCarran-Walter Immigration Law which he said Corsi thus attacked in testimony in 1952.

Corsi himself came to this country from Italy as a 9-year-old immigrant in 1906. He served for a time in the early 1930s as U. S. commissioner of immigration and naturalization, and later as welfare director and industrial commissioner of New York state.

Nationalist China has agreed, in connection with its mutual defense treaty with the United States, not to launch any attacks against the mainland without U. S. agreement. Sparkman said this agreement covers bombing of the mainland.

NATIONALIST warplanes have repeatedly bombed Communist coastal shipping but have not attacked any mainland points.

If the Nationalists did launch bombing forays over the mainland, Sparkman said, Red China certainly would retaliate. That would "almost insure war," Sparkman said, and he continued:

"It would be folly, however, to let a buildup continue beyond a stage where their purpose is apparent and the threat real. This will bear close watching and I am certain the administration is watching it. If the President comes to the conclusion that the Communist purpose is to invade Formosa and represents a real threat, then it would be up to us to act."

Payroll Is Seized

New York, April 8 (AP) — A shipping clerk was hit on the head and robbed of a $372 payroll, and $20 of his own money, in a seventh-floor hallway at 15 West 38th street shortly before 11 a. m. today. Police of the West 30th street station said the clerk, George Jaccino, 25, of 56 Pondfield Road, West Bronxville, was returning to his place of employment, the Elvic Importing Company, Inc., a lace firm, when the holdup occurred.

Shad Are Moving Slowly Up Hudson

Shad are moving slowly up the Hudson this year, fishermen said today.

An odd catch has been reported in the Poughkeepsie-Highland section of the river, but the men who fish off Kingston Point, have been sparing their nets, to date.

Easter Sunday, however, if the weather is as favorable as predicted, will draw out the fishermen in their first serious try of the season, they indicated today.

No Opposition to Raise

Hartford, Conn., April 8 (AP)—More than a dozen union spokesmen and one employer appeared at a Connecticut legislative hearing yesterday in support of a bill to ask Congress to raise the federal minimum wage 50 cents to $1.25 an hour. There was no opposition. The bill is aimed at stopping the migration of Connecticut industries to the South, where labor is cheaper. The spokesman before the Federal and Intergovernmental Relations Committee contended that raising the minimum wage would reduce competition stemming from low area wage rates.

Eden—What Kind of Man?

(Editor's Note—Britain's new prime minister was for many years the "boy wonder" of British politics. Now, at 57, he has reached the top post. This is the third in a series of articles reviewing his career, written by a veteran London correspondent.)

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

London, April 8 (AP)—Britain's new prime minister has—to use a phrase of British paradoxical understatement—a flair for the undramatic.

The ideal of diplomats around the world, Sir Anthony Eden thumps no tubs and rouses no rabble.

Despite his good looks and aristocratic poise, he generates no warm excitement in crowds. He is an indifferent speaker.

Yet the halls fill for his public appearances. He is heard with increasing respect by the working classes, the backbone of England. They find him very solid and very British.

Perhaps, his finest hour in all his 31 years in Parliament was his ruckus with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain in 1938.

EDEN WAS foreign secretary. Dictators were on the march, Mussolini into Abyssinia and Albania and, in conspiracy with Hitler, intervening in the Spanish Civil War. Britain had immediate concerns — Gibraltar, Malta, Suez, the empire's life line—and there was the larger concern that Europe and Africa might be falling into the hands of despots.

Chamberlain's formula was to deal with the dictators, yield a little here and hold a little there. It was the beginning of appeasement. Eden's urgent advice to the prime minister was to stand up to them. In Rome he spoke his mind vigorously to Mussolini, and a day later read the Duce's scornful comment.

"They sent a little boy to negotiate with me."

In Britain, when he pressed for swift and massive rearmament, Eden was told after one painful scene with the prime minister:

"Go home and take an aspirin."

THEN CAME evidence that Chamberlain was negotiating with the Italians over Eden's head, and that what they demanded was the dismissal of the troublesome little boy. On Feb. 20, 1938, he resigned as foreign secretary. He gave an explanation to the House of Commons the next day.

There was a great wave of sympathy for Eden and in that moment, many believe, he might have become the man of a dangerous hour. A man so thwarted might have been forgiven for exploding with righteous indignation. But Eden seemed, deliberately, to make it as undramatic as possible. He did not assail Chamberlain, giving only his calm statement of his considered view:

"OF LATE the conviction has steadily grown upon me that there has been too keen a desire on our part to make terms with others rather than that others should make terms with us. This was never the attitude of this country in the past. It should not, in the interests of peace, be our attitude today."

Many think that Eden was convinced, in the dark moment, that the Conservative party should not be torn apart. Whatever the motive, Eden's low-key resignation had three visible consequences:

BRITAIN FORMED a high opinion of Eden as a man of principle.

The rift with Chamberlain was not complete, so it was possible for Eden to return to his government later.

And from Chartwell estate in the country came a growling comment. Winston Churchill, then snarling in a political doghouse, said of Eden:

"He is the only fresh figure of first magnitude arising out of the generation ravaged by the (first) great war."

It was the beginning of a solid friendship, an association of personalities which triumphed over dictators and continued long afterward in the frustrations of the cold war.

EDEN'S REPUTE as a statesman depends largely on his handling of foreign affairs. It is a specialty into which he was thrust by personal inclination and, according to some observers who watch political developments with an amused eye, by the laziness of Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin.

Eden first became foreign secretary in a Baldwin government in 1935, a "wonder boy" who assumed the office at the age of 38. It was said of Baldwin that he was almost totally uninterested in anything beyond the shores of Britain, and that he didn't care to make the effort to learn anything about foreign affairs. Veteran members of Commons recall that he used to doze in Parliament when foreign relations were up for discussion. But there was no escaping foreign affairs, so he made a deal with his conscience by naming Eden, first a roving observer to keep an eye on other chancelleries, and then foreign secretary.

Eden traveled extensively, became personally acquainted with European and world leaders, and had a fairly free hand, so long as Baldwin wasn't disturbed, in shaping foreign policy. The Eden policy, largely approved by Churchill later, has become a fairly fixed pattern. It grows and changes its shape slowly to accommodate new situations, but keeps a steady course.

EDEN WANTS PEACE, but believes Britain must be strong to preserve it.

He tried desperately to make the old League of Nations work, and now gives unstinted support to the United Nations, which he helped create at San Francisco. He regards it an imperfect instrument, but the best possible at the moment.

He holds that Great Britain is not completely a European power, so shouldn't plunge full tilt into alliances and working agreements with continental states. The English channel, he believes, still sets Britain apart, although across the channel there must always be a friendly France and if possible a friendly Germany.

Eden holds that Britain's vital role is on a broader stage, an historic mission as the "metropolitan commonwealth" of the British Commonwealth of Nations. He believes deeply in the mission of another combination taking form on the other side of the globe — the Colombo grouping of India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Burma and Indonesia.

EDEN HAS emphasized often that a very large rock on which British policy must rest is unshakable friendship and very close cooperation with the United States. But he doesn't tie British policy to that of the United States in every detail, and the differences have been painful recently.

In 1938, he stood up bravely against appeasement, and now is distressed by the suspicion of many Americans that in the cold war Britain goes too far in the appeasement of Russia and Red China. Even more disturbing to him is the view expressed by some American papers that Britain is playing off Russia against the United States in the classic old European game of "divide and rule."

Eden discussed such American fears in his book "Freedom and Order." In an account of three-power efforts to agree on how to manage Europe immediately after the war he wrote:

"OUR CONCERN then was never lest we should be drawn further into the camp of one great power or another, but rather to promote confidence within the triangle and to enlarge it . . .

"There was never any question in my mind as to whether we should be more friendly with the United States of America, or with Russia. That was never the issue. The question was rather whether we could grow to understand each other well enough to agree that we would all accept to obey an international order to the authority of which we would contribute our own strength."

Then he observed: "The world of today is unlikely to be content to live under one ideology or one religion, nor is it necessary for the maintenance of peace that it should do so."

As Eden assumes his new duties, attention is focused on his attitude toward the most troublesome problem of the hour: China. He has stated that if Formosa is attacked by the Red Chinese, urgent questions which the United Nations would have to answer will arise. He has not gone so far as to say Britain would help resist such an attack. He believes that the ultimate fate of the island should be determined by international negotiation.

Eden has taken the view that the islands of Quemoy and Matsu belong to the government of the mainland, but that Red China should give assurances that Formosa will not be attacked.

THE NEW prime minister shares with his predecessor the view that there should be ultimately a meeting of government leaders of the Big Four powers.

But Eden's approach has been that Britain, the United States and France should set up a study commission to prepare the way for the Big Four foreign ministers to meet first. He indicated he has doubts about the value of a top-meeting first, such as Churchill advocated.

FRIENDLY PEOPLE

A paradise exists where war is nonexistent. As news of it spreads, this community in New Guinea is likely to attract people from all over the world.

The community which doesn't know war was discovered recently by a young Australian government explorer, James Kent. While leading a patrol through the rugged Hindenburg and Etar Mountains, he came upon a tribe of 20,000 natives whom he describes as "the friendliest, most hospitable and most likable natives I have ever seen." Such words sound good, even to those of us who are hardly likely ever to encounter this tribe.

Mr. Kent said that as his patrol neared the villages of this tribe, "we were surrounded by hundreds of singing and dancing natives." The explorers were "embraced, hugged, and patted," and the head men from the various villages actually "vied with one another in their efforts to express their pleasure."

It is comforting to know that somewhere there exists a people not automatically hostile and suspicious toward strangers. It is comforting to know that war is not inborn in human beings.

This tribe should be studied carefully. Apparently it has some lessons it could teach the so-called civilized world.

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL

The retirement of Sir Winston Churchill from the active leadership of his country and his Conservative Party will be recorded as one of the great benchmarks in modern world history.

It is a sad occasion for free men for giants are rare in any age. It is sadder still for him, because he leaves center stage with one great dream—the establishment of lasting peace—unfulfilled.

This man of blazing energy knows his place in history is secure. But he is not content with that place. It makes of him a great war leader, the man who brought a struggling island nation back from the brink of defeat. He would rather be remembered as the man who brought substance to men's wistful hopes for peace on this troubled earth.

That he should, at 80, be pressing toward so great a goal is thoroughly characteristic of Sir Winston. From his beginnings as a public figure he has always scaled his ambitions high. The free world was fortunate that those ambitions accorded so well with the advancement of its own security and well-being.

But Sir Winston's fellow humans will not now judge him so harshly as he would judge himself for failing to realize this last and greatest dream. His legions of grateful "constituents" throughout the world understand that in taking upon himself this task he assumed a burden that may well lie beyond the capacity of any one man or group of men in this tense time of history.

The exigencies of British politics compel his retirement at this moment. The tottering condition of the rival Labor Party is a beckoning invitation to the ruling Conservatives to call an early election to capitalize their evident mounting advantage.

Sir Winston recognizes that not he but his designated successor, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, should be the one to stand before the voters in that test. And if Eden is to fit himself for such a test, he needs a trial period at the helm.

Sir Winston's admirers need not fret that he will pine away in retirement as would ordinary mortals, for all his disappointment. He is truly a universal man, with a wide diversity of interests and an incredible assortment of talents. He will write and paint and lay bricks.

More than that, he is sure to speak, as he always has, to a world that treasures his wisdom, his flair for dramatic, ringing words, and his power to lift men's hearts.

In this sense, Sir Winston will never lay down his load until he dies. He may retire from the mere leadership of his party or his country. But so long as men can hear his voice, he could not if he wished cast off the mantle of world leadership he has so nobly earned.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE RECEPTION TO SCELBA

New York prides itself on being the largest Italian city in the world. We were told by Premier Mario Scelba of Italy that Rome is larger. New York is now the second such city. Of course, soon it will not be Italian at all. It takes some generations—three, four, five—for an immigrant group to be totally absorbed in the American society with only a nostalgic interest left for the country of origin. The children cease to know their grandmother's tongue; they intermarry with the scions of other immigrant groups or with the descendants of those who fought in the Revolution. The best yardstick for that is the circulation of foreign language newspapers. The German "Staats-Zeitung" was once a powerful newspaper in this city; its circulation has dwindled to 23,000 even after it was combined with the "Herold."

Premier Scelba did well by his country during his recent visit. He stated that Italy has passed through the period of post-war reconstruction and that it is ready to take its place among the nations on its own feet. In New York, where I met the Premier, such a statement brought cheers, particularly from those whose grandparents came mostly from Sicily.

Americans of Italian descent have had a difficult time among their neighbors because of Italy's participation in war against us. But there never has been in this country the same antagonism toward the Italians as toward the Germans. Even Mussolini was never as disliked as Hitler was and although for a time everyone who was not pro-Russian was called a Fascist, the dislike for Italian Fascism never equalled the genuine abhorrence for German Nazism. This attitude was less related to the economics or nationalism of those off-shoots of Hegel and Marx, as it was a response to the challenge of the racial concepts of Hitler and his theorist, Alfred Rosenberg. The assertion of racial superiority arouses more dislike than any other human conception.

Therefore those of Italian origin, in the United States, never found an antagonism equal to that which developed against Americans of German origin.

At the luncheon which I attended, it was interesting to look at the first table. The Mayor, Robert F. Wagner, had a German-immigrant father and an Irish mother. The father became a United States Senator, as the son will undoubtedly be some day. The leading political figure in this city is Carmine DeSapio, currently Secretary of State in New York, and a Democratic leader of national significance. Carmine DeSapio is, of course, of Italian origin. Lawrence E. Gerosa, Comptroller of the City of New York, its chief fiscal officer, was there—also of Italian descent. Richard C. Patterson, Jr., who presided, is of ancient American vintage.

To me, it is fascinating to observe the emergence of these sons and grandsons of immigrants to top rank. Most of these men come from what is so erroneously called underprivileged neighborhoods and even underprivileged families. Their lives are evidence of the absurdity of denying that opportunities in the United States are available to all and are a privilege and a bounty. Perhaps Judge Michael Musmanno's father, an Italian immigrant miner, expressed it best, when he witnessed his son being sworn in, by kissing the hem of the American flag. The Harlem Italian district—now Puerto Rican—which Fiorello La Guardia used to represent in Congress, was surely not the most delightful part of this city, but it produced a good crop of Americans, although there were some unfortunates among them. They all had the same chance because no one had a better chance. Those who preferred to make their fortunes as crooks cannot blame it upon or be blamed for the environment. It was the same for the good and the evil.

And as things go here, the families that succeeded moved away; some to the Bronx, some to Westchester or Long Island; some to Park and Fifth Avenues where the rich and distinguished like to pay high rents for a "good" address.

Their places in old Harlem have been taken by the newest immigrant group, the Puerto Ricans, who will go through the same process of education, assimilation and absorption into the community.

If New York is no longer the largest among Italian cities, it can only be that so many of those Italians have given birth to Americans.

LOW SALT DIET

It is rather surprising to learn that the value of cutting down on salt in the treatment of heart diease was commented on 600 years ago. Nevertheless, it is only within recent years that the idea of salt restriction has really taken hold. Formerly, it was felt that the tendency for fluid to remain in body tissues could be counteracted by cutting down on the intake of liquids of all kinds but it is now realized that salt (sodium) in the body, just like salt in the pantry, tends to attract water to it. In fact, it has been estimated that salt will hold 70 times its weight in water in the body. So now we find the low salt diet quite commonly prescribed in certain types of heart disease or in high blood pressure.

We now learn in a recent News Release from the American Heart Association that the low salt diet may also have a directly beneficial influence on the heart muscle. Studies have been made based on the knowledge that muscles which are becoming tired because of lack of oxygen tend to take up salt (sodium). The heart itself is a large muscle. If the heart's oxygen supply has been decreased by disease, the scientists found that reducing the sodium around it enables the muscle to contract more forcibly and do more work. "Low salt diets thus appear to have a directly helpful effect in cases of heart failure."

In reporting these findings to the largest international gathering of heart authorities ever held in the western hemisphere, it was added that this new information goes far to explain why an apparently harmless procedure, like taking excessible baking soda (another form of sodium), may be bad for the heart.

The low salt diet is not something to be undertaken lightly "in case it does some good," but must be gone into thoroughly under the supervision of a physician who understands the patient's disease, the state of his heart, blood vessels and kidneys, and whose observations will protect his patient from the dangers of an abnormally low body sodium. We must never forget that sodium chloride (salt) is one of the most important elements of the human body and man cannot live without salt in his body fluids and tissues.

The low sodium diet may range from 200 to 1600 milligrams of sodium daily depending on whether the diet is to be mildly, moderately or severely restricted in sodium content. While this may seem like a lot of sodium, when you consider that the average "salt lover", of whom there are many, may consume as much as 6,000 milligrams of sodium each day, we can see that radical changes in both cooking and eating habits must take place.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington—(NEA) — During Italian Prime Minister Mario Scelba's visit to Washington, he was photographed kissing the hand of Clare Boothe Luce, U. S. Ambassador to Italy.

Referring to this picture when he introduced the Prime Minister for a talk to Washington newsmen, National Press Club President Lucian Warren observed:

"I think it was unkind of the papers to mention that this picture was taken just after Italy had been granted $15 million in additional economic assistance."

PUBLICATION of the Yalta papers served to take the heat off Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss and the highly controversial Dixon-Yates contract in the Tennessee Valley Authority area.

At AEC headquarters in Washington, they now refer to it as the "Dixon-Yalta" contract.

OFFICE OF Defense Mobilization will now consider granting accelerated tax amortization on new defense plants or additions to existing plants, regardless of cost, if they meet the new standards of dispersal to reduce target areas for atomic bomb damage. The former requirement was that only projects costing over $1 million would get tax write-offs if they met dispersal criteria.

Since this program of promoting factory dispersal was first introduced in July, 1952, a total of 1394 projects worth nearly $9 billion have been reviewed. Of these, 546 projects worth nearly $4 billion were given an average tax amortization of 60 per cent. A few essential industry expansion projects got full 100 per cent benefit.

Five projects worth $19 million were denied amortization and 86, worth $729 million, were granted exemptions because relocating their facilities outside target areas would cause economic hardship. Mines, pipelines, railroads and power plants are in this last class.

These figures give a picture of the extent to which American industry has been relocating as a civil defense measure.

WILLIAM WEATHERSBY, top-notch U. S. Public Affairs officer in Cairo, Egypt, took the trouble to check up on criticisms of the Voice of America programs beamed to his part of the world, as revealed in "Billions, Blunders and Baloney," by Eugene W. Castle. On page 9 of this sensational new book, it was charged that the "Amid" brothers, who publish a newspaper in Cairo, had told the author that the Voice of America was no good, and that the program was received in Cairo early in the morning when nobody was listening.

Since Weathersby knew that the program came in between 8 and 10 p. m., he set out to track down the "Amid" brothers, and got back this reply:

"Dear Mr. Weathersby:

"We were surprised that Mr. Eugene Castle in his recently published book claimed he had interviewed us about the USIA in Cairo. He not only misspelled our names but also misspelled our ideas. The fact is that this gentleman met us for a few minutes before a luncheon given by Mr. Saba Habach in Mena House hotel. All that he attributed to us is what he said himself. We disagreed with him, but he insisted he was right. He said he had come to Cairo and had visited many capitals to prove what he actually was convinced of before starting off from the States.

"Will you please try to use your influence and correct this distortion of facts?

"Yours sincerely,
"MOSTAFA AMIN & ALI AMIN."

SPOTLIGHTING THE Upper Colorado River war over the Echo Park dam, David F. Brinegar, executive secretary of the Central Arizona Project Assn., calls attention to the fact that Arizona water users are not opposing the project, as stated recently in this column.

"We consider California the villain in this piece," writes Mr. Brinegar, "and we believe California is endeavoring to frustrate the construction of all major works on the river which would allow development for other states. . . . However, because of the loose use by California of the term 'Lower Basin,' people are led astray."

Evidence Points to Revival of Interest From Pre-Yalta Conference Maneuvers

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 8—There's evidently going to be a revival of interest from now on in what took place behind the scenes in Washington during World War 2. That's because efforts are being made to argue that such mistakes as were made by President Roosevelt at Yalta were due to a feeling that concessions were necessary to bring Soviet Russia into the war against Japan. It is being contended, for instance, that Mr. Roosevelt had not other course open to him and that nothing else could be done but to kowtow to Russian demands.

The other side of the story is coming out. Thus Capt. W. D. Puleston, U S N retired, who has spent nearly all his time since 1945 writing a book called "The Influence of Force on Foreign Relations," has had access to official records and has painstaking interviewed many of the persons who held top positions in America's military establishment during the war. Capt. Puleston is a noted writer on military subjects and the author of several books.

Capt. Puleston says there was no need to make concessions to Soviet Russia and that the late Harry Hopkins, intimate friend of Mr. Roosevelt, was the center of a pro-Russian atmosphere in Washington. Apropos of what was happening in the inner councils, the late Secretary Forrestal is quoted as having written to a friend in September, 1944, that "if any American suggests that we act in accord with our own interests, he is apt to be called a .... Fascist or imperialist, while if Uncle Joe (Stalin) suggests that he needs the Baltic provinces, half of Poland, all of Bessarabia and access to the Mediterranean, all hands in Washington agree that he is a fine, frank, candid and generally delightful fellow who is very easy to deal with because he is so explicit in what he wants."

Capt. Puleston tells how a secret memorandum by Harry Hopkins was circulated among the American delegates to the Moscow conference in October, 1943. He quotes Robert E. Sherwood, biographer of Hopkins, as saying this document was of great importance because it shaped the policy which guided American delegates making decisions at Teheran and Yalta. Hopkins claimed that his memorandum of 1943 was taken "from a very high level United States military strategic estimate."

The text of the document follows:

"Russia's post-war position in Europe will be a dominant one. With Germany crushed, there is no power in Europe to oppose her tremendous military forces. It is true that Great Britain is building up a position in the Mediterranean vis-a-vis Russia that she may find useful in balancing power in Europe. However, even here she may not be able to oppose Russia unless she is otherwise supported.

"The conclusions from the foregoing are obvious. Since Russia is the decisive factor in the war, she must be given every assistance and every effort made to obtain her friendship. Likewise, since without question she will dominate Europe on the defeat of the Axis, it is even more essential to develop and maintain the most friendly relations with Russia.

"Finally, the most important factor the United States has to consider in relation to Russia is the prosecution of the war in the Pacific. With Russia as an ally in the war against Japan, the war can be terminated in less time and at less expense in life and resources than if the reverse were the case. Should the war in the Pacific have to be carried on with an unfriendly or a negative attitude on the part of Russia, the difficulties will be immeasurably increased and operations might become abortive."

Yet, just before this memorandum was taken to Moscow by Harry Hopkins, an entirely different military estimate was being made in writing, as the records will show, by top officers in the Navy Department. Capt. Puleston was one of these.

He writes in his book: "Many naval officers in Washington did not agree with Hopkins' document. Most of them were convinced that Russia needed the support of the United Nations more than they (the Allies) needed that of Russia. The navy thought we had heard too much of Red contribution to victory and too little of Anglo-American. They feared that if the Anglo-American representatives continued to extol Russia's effort and apologize for their own, Stalin would demand more and more concessions. They proposed to tell the Kremlin that we would not attempt to impose on them but would not be stupid enough to let Russia impose upon us."

Capt. Puleston says the Hopkins memorandum was "defeatist." Why did Roosevelt trust Stalin's promises, asks the naval historian, especially since Gen. Deane, army representative at Moscow, "reported to Washington just prior to the Yalta conference that a Russian agreement in principle means exactly nothing—they are generous 'in giving such agreements.'"

The detailed story of the pressure in Washington on the Roosevelt administration not to grant concessions to Soviet Russia and of the leverage which the United States had on Moscow because of the need for America's lend-lease supplies in the critical months just after the Yalta conference has yet to be revealed. Likewise, America had the atom bomb in store in 1945 and it is, therefore, surprising that a big alibi now is interjected which says that no other course except surrender was possible at Yalta.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

An editor in "the cow country" writes me that his readers are "tired of attacks on the late FDR."

"Many of them were still schoolchildren when 'our leader' died," says he. "To them, and to many older readers, your pieces sound like attacks on Jefferson Davis. Your quarrels with labor unions also suffer from too much emphasis on past history. People out here in the cow country don't care much about unions one way or another, anyhow."

Here are two divisions of one criticism.

It is true that many of his readers were in school when the Hyde Park Mahatma died, but our journalism still owes them knowledge which they never heard in school nor anywhere else and which college students of today are denied as though it were blasphemy. Other millions of the best young Americans were away at the big war and out of touch with sources of information.

Furthermore, many of those sources suppressed historical knowledge which ought to have been presented at the time. Great areas of population, such as Minneapolis, St. Paul, Louisville and St. Louis, learned nothing about many perfidies of individuals in the White House. Many millions of citizens in those cities who were adults when Roosevelt came in are still ignorant of facts which, for the good of their citizenship, they should know.

I have wondered whether the press of Grant's time currently disclosed the corruption which distinguished his reign as the worst down to the Roosevelt-Truman era. I never heard of it in school. I read about it first in historical political biographies beginning in the middle 'twenties. I suspect that many of the people who lived then went to their graves without learning truth to which they were entitled.

But Grant's administrations were of routine importance by comparison with the Roosevelt-Truman era. Virtue had won a victory partly at the instigation and under the management of scoundrels from the north. Our country became, more and more, a solid nation with the states gradually losing their identity, integrity and sovereignty. But now that nation itself is rapidly forfeiting its solid sovereignty and large elements of the Roosevelt-Truman regime, with great financial backing and conspiratorial cunning, are disparaging patriotism as detestable bigotry. People who should be furious at Egbert Murrow and his fabulously rich American industrial patrons for daring to minimize the conduct of J. Robert Oppenheimer are not even displeased. Much of the newspaper and magazine press has been guilty of intentional apathy under a fraudulent excuse of broadmindedness. I know why Oppenheimer has been forgiven and I think my friend, the editor, does, too.

Did anyone put up a similar fight for George Sylvester Viereck, William Griffin and 40 other passionate pro-Americans when they were transported in chains, reviled, spat upon, tortured and, in some cases, sent to prison for opposing military suc-

FRIENDLY PEOPLE

A paradise exists where war is nonexistent. As news of it spreads, this community in New Guinea is likely to attract people from all over the world.

The community which doesn't know war was discovered recently by a young Australian government explorer, James Kent. While leading a patrol through the rugged Hindenburg and Etar Mountains, he came upon a tribe of 20,000 natives whom he describes as "the friendliest, most hospitable and most likable natives I have ever seen." Such words sound good, even to those of us who are hardly likely ever to encounter this tribe.

Mr. Kent said that as his patrol neared the villages of this tribe, "we were surrounded by hundreds of singing and dancing natives." The explorers were "embraced, hugged, and patted," and the head men from the various villages actually "vied with one another in their efforts to express their pleasure."

It is comforting to know that somewhere there exists a people not automatically hostile and suspicious toward strangers. It is comforting to know that war is not inborn in human beings.

This tribe should be studied carefully. Apparently it has some lessons it could teach the so-called civilized world.

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL

The retirement of Sir Winston Churchill from the active leadership of his country and his Conservative Party will be recorded as one of the great benchmarks in modern world history.

It is a sad occasion for free men for giants are rare in any age. It is sadder still for him, because he leaves center stage with one great dream—the establishment of lasting peace—unfulfilled.

This man of blazing energy knows his place in history is secure. But he is not content with that place. It makes of him a great war leader, the man who brought a struggling island nation back from the brink of defeat. He would rather be remembered as the man who brought substance to men's wistful hopes for peace on this troubled earth.

That he should, at 80, be pressing toward so great a goal is thoroughly characteristic of Sir Winston. From his beginnings as a public figure he has always scaled his ambitions high. The free world was fortunate that those ambitions accorded so well with the advancement of its own security and well-being.

But Sir Winston's fellow humans will not now judge him so harshly as he would judge himself for failing to realize this last and greatest dream. His legions of grateful "constituents" throughout the world understand that in taking upon himself this task he assumed a burden that may well lie beyond the capacity of any one man or group of men in this tense time of history.

The exigencies of British politics compel his retirement at this moment. The tottering condition of the rival Labor Party is a beckoning invitation to the ruling Conservatives to call an early election to capitalize their evident mounting advantage.

Sir Winston recognizes that not he but his designated successor, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, should be the one to stand before the voters in that test. And if Eden is to fit himself for such a test, he needs a trial period at the helm.

Sir Winston's admirers need not fret that he will pine away in retirement as would ordinary mortals, for all his disappointment. He is truly a universal man, with a wide diversity of interests and an incredible assortment of talents. He will write and paint and lay bricks.

More than that, he is sure to speak, as he always has, to a world that treasures his wisdom, his flair for dramatic, ringing words, and his power to lift men's hearts.

In this sense, Sir Winston will never lay down his load until he dies. He may retire from the mere leadership of his party or his country. But so long as men can hear his voice, he could not if he wished cast off the mantle of world leadership he has so nobly earned.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE RECEPTION TO SCELBA

New York prides itself on being the largest Italian city in the world. We were told by Premier Mario Scelba of Italy that Rome is larger. New York is now the second such city. Of course, soon it will not be Italian at all. It takes some generations—three, four, five—for an immigrant group to be totally absorbed in the American society with only a nostalgic interest left for the country of origin. The children cease to know their grandmother's tongue; they intermarry with the scions of other immigrant groups or with the descendants of those who fought in the Revolution. The best yardstick for that is the circulation of foreign language newspapers. The German "Staats-Zeitung" was once a powerful newspaper in this city; its circulation has dwindled to 23,000 even after it was combined with the "Herold."

Premier Scelba did well by his country during his recent visit. He stated that Italy has passed through the period of post-war reconstruction and that it is ready to take its place among the nations on its own feet. In New York, where I met the Premier, such a statement brought cheers, particularly from those whose grandparents came mostly from Sicily.

Americans of Italian descent have had a difficult time among their neighbors because of Italy's participation in war against us. But there never has been in this country the same antagonism toward the Italians as toward the Germans. Even Mussolini was never as disliked as Hitler was and although for a time everyone who was not pro-Russian was called a Fascist, the dislike for Italian Fascism never equalled the genuine abhorrence for German Nazism. This attitude was less related to the economics or nationalism of those off-shoots of Hegel and Marx, as it was a response to the challenge of the racial concepts of Hitler and his theorist, Alfred Rosenberg. The assertion of racial superiority arouses more dislike than any other human conception.

Therefore those of Italian origin, in the United States, never found an antagonism equal to that which developed against Americans of German origin.

At the luncheon which I attended, it was interesting to look at the first table. The Mayor, Robert F. Wagner, had a German-immigrant father and an Irish mother. The father became a United States Senator, as the son will undoubtedly be some day. The leading political figure in this city is Carmine DeSapio, currently Secretary of State in New York, and a Democratic leader of national significance. Carmine DeSapio is, of course, of Italian origin. Lawrence E. Gerosa, Comptroller of the City of New York, its chief fiscal officer, was there also of Italian descent. Richard C. Patterson, Jr., who presided, is of ancient American vintage.

To me, it is fascinating to observe the emergence of these sons and grandsons of immigrants to top rank. Most of these men come from what is so erroneously called underprivileged neighborhoods and even underprivileged families. Their lives are evidence of the absurdity of denying that opportunities in the United States are available to all and are a privilege and a bounty. Perhaps Judge Michael Musmanno's father, an Italian immigrant miner, expressed it best, when he witnessed his son being sworn in, by kissing the hem of the American flag. The Harlem Italian district—now Puerto Rican—which Fiorello La Guardia used to represent in Congress, was surely not the most delightful part of this city, but it produced a good crop of Americans, although there were some unfortunates among them. They all had the same chance because no one had a better chance. Those who preferred to make their fortunes as crooks cannot blame it upon or be blamed for the environment. It was the same for the good and the evil.

And as things go here, the families that succeeded moved away; some to the Bronx, some to Westchester or Long Island; some to Park and Fifth Avenues where the rich and distinguished like to pay high rents for a "good" address.

Their places in old Harlem have been taken by the newest immigrant group, the Puerto Ricans, who will go through the same process of education, assimilation and absorption into the community.

If New York is no longer the largest among Italian cities, it can only be that so many of those Italians have given birth to Americans.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington—(NEA) — During Italian Prime Minister Mario Scelba's visit to Washington, he was photographed kissing the hand of Clare Boothe Luce, U. S. Ambassador to Italy.

Referring to this picture when he introduced the Prime Minister for a talk to Washington newsmen, National Press Club President Lucian Warren observed:

"I think it was unkind of the papers to mention that this picture was taken just after Italy had been granted $15 million in additional economic assistance."

PUBLICATION of the Yalta papers served to take the heat off Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss and the highly controversial Dixon-Yates contract in the Tennessee Valley Authority area.

At AEC headquarters in Washington, they now refer to it as the "Dixon-Yalta" contract.

OFFICE OF Defense Mobilization will now consider granting accelerated tax amortization on new defense plants or additions to existing plants, regardless of cost, if they meet the new standards of dispersal to reduce target areas for atomic bomb damage. The former requirement was that only projects costing over $1 million would get tax write-offs if they met dispersal criteria.

Since this program of promoting factory dispersal was first introduced in July, 1952, a total of 1394 projects worth nearly $9 billion have been reviewed. Of these, 546 projects worth nearly $4 billion were given an average tax amortization of 60 per cent. A few essential industry expansion projects got full 100 per cent benefit.

Five projects worth $19 million were denied amortization and 86, worth $729 million, were granted exemptions because relocating their facilities outside target areas would cause economic hardship. Mines, pipelines, railroads and power plants are in this last class.

These figures give a picture of the extent to which American industry has been relocating as a civil defense measure.

WILLIAM WEATHERSBY, top-notch U. S. Public Affairs officer in Cairo, Egypt, took the trouble to check up on criticisms of the Voice of America programs beamed to his part of the world, as revealed in "Billions, Blunders and Baloney," by Eugene W. Castle. On page 9 of this sensational new book, it was charged that the "Amid" brothers, who publish a newspaper in Cairo, had told the author that the Voice of America was no good, and that the program was received in Cairo early in the morning when nobody was listening.

Since Weathersby knew that the program came in between 8 and 10 p. m., he set out to track down the "Amid" brothers, and got back this reply:

"Dear Mr. Weathersby:

"We were surprised that Mr. Eugene Castle in his recently published book claimed he had interviewed us about the USIA in Cairo. He not only misspelled our names but also misspelled our ideas. The fact is that this gentleman met us for a few minutes before a luncheon given by Mr. Saba Habach in Mena House hotel. All that he attributed to us is what he said himself. We disagreed with him, but he insisted he was right. He said he had come to Cairo and had visited many capitals to prove what he actually was convinced of before starting off from the States.

"Will you please try to use your influence and correct this distortion of facts?

"Yours sincerely,
"MOSTAFA AMIN & ALI AMIN."

SPOTLIGHTING THE Upper Colorado River war over the Echo Park dam, David F. Brinegar, executive secretary of the Central Arizona Project Assn., calls attention to the fact that Arizona water users are not opposing the project, as stated recently in this column.

"We consider California the villain in this piece," writes Mr. Brinegar, "and we believe California is endeavoring to frustrate the construction of all major works on the river which would allow development for other states. . . . However, because of the loose use by California of the term 'Lower Basin,' people are led astray."

WHILE THE RUSSIANS claim to have moved mountains with their atomic explosion tests, American scientists can now claim to have removed whiskers with atomic energy.

This happened during shakedown tests of the atomic submarine Nautilus. A Congressman inspecting the ship plugged in his electric razor and shaved during the trial run. The power of course came from the atomic boiler that drives the sub.

Evidence Points to Revival of Interest From Pre-Yalta Conference Maneuvers

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 8—There's evidently going to be a revival of interest from now on in what took place behind the scenes in Washington during World War 2. That's because efforts are being made to argue that such mistakes as were made by President Roosevelt at Yalta were due to a feeling that concessions were necessary to bring Soviet Russia into the war against Japan. It is being contended, for instance, that Mr. Roosevelt had not other course open to him and that nothing else could be done but to kowtow to Russian demands.

The other side of the story is coming out. Thus Capt. W. D. Puleston, U S N retired, who has spent nearly all his time since 1945 writing a book called "The Influence of Force on Foreign Relations," has had access to official records and has painstaking interviewed many of the persons who held top positions in America's military establishment during the war. Capt. Puleston is a noted writer on military subjects and the author of several books.

Capt. Puleston says there was no need to make concessions to Soviet Russia and that the late Harry Hopkins, intimate friend of Mr. Roosevelt, was the center of a pro-Russian atmosphere in Washington. Apropos of what was happening in the inner councils, the late Secretary Forrestal is quoted as having written to a friend in September, 1944, that "if any American suggests that we act in accord with our own interests, he is apt to be called a .... Fascist or imperialist, while if Uncle Joe (Stalin) suggests that he needs the Baltic provinces, half of Poland, all of Bessarabia and access to the Mediterranean, all hands in Washington agree that he is a fine, frank, candid and generally delightful fellow who is very easy to deal with because he is so explicit in what he wants."

Capt. Puleston tells how a secret memorandum by Harry Hopkins was circulated among the American delegates to the Moscow conference in October, 1943. He quotes Robert E. Sherwood, biographer of Hopkins, as saying this document was of great importance because it shaped the policy which guided American delegates making decisions at Teheran and Yalta. Hopkins claimed that his memorandum of 1943 was taken "from a very high level United States military strategic estimate."

The text of the document follows:

"Russia's post-war position in Europe will be a dominant one. With Germany crushed, there is no power in Europe to oppose her tremendous military forces. It is true that Great Britain is building up a position in the Mediterranean vis-a-vis Russia that she may find useful in balancing power in Europe. However, even here she may not be able to oppose Russia unless she is otherwise supported.

"The conclusions from the foregoing are obvious. Since Russia is the decisive factor in the war, she must be given every assistance and every effort made to obtain her friendship. Likewise, since without question she will dominate Europe on the defeat of the Axis, it is even more essential to develop and maintain the most friendly relations with Russia.

"Finally, the most important factor the United States has to consider in relation to Russia is the prosecution of the war in the Pacific. With Russia as an ally in the war against Japan, the war can be terminated in less time and at less expense in life and resources than if the reverse were the case. Should the war in the Pacific have to be carried on with an unfriendly or a negative attitude on the part of Russia, the difficulties will be immeasurably increased and operations might become abortive."

Yet, just before this memorandum was taken to Moscow by Harry Hopkins, an entirely different military estimate was being made in writing, as the records will show, by top officers in the Navy Department. Capt. Puleston was one of these.

He writes in his book: "Many naval officers in Washington did not agree with Hopkins' document. Most of them were convinced that Russia needed the support of the United Nations more than they (the Allies) needed that of Russia. The navy thought we had heard too much of Red contribution to victory and too little of Anglo-American. They feared that if the Anglo-American representatives continued to extol Russia's effort and apologize for their own, Stalin would demand more and more concessions. They proposed to tell the Kremlin that we would not attempt to impose on them but would not be stupid enough to let Russia impose upon us."

Capt. Puleston says the Hopkins memorandum was "defeatist." Why did Roosevelt trust Stalin's promises, asks the naval historian, especially since Gen. Deane, army representative at Moscow, "reported to Washington just prior to the Yalta conference that a Russian agreement in principle means exactly nothing—they are generous 'in giving such agreements.'"

The detailed story of the pressure in Washington on the Roosevelt administration not to grant concessions to Soviet Russia and of the leverage which the United States had on Moscow because of the need for America's lend-lease supplies in the critical months just after the Yalta conference has yet to be revealed. Likewise, America had the atom bomb in store in 1945 and it is, therefore, surprising that a big alibi now is interjected which says that no other course except surrender was possible at Yalta.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

An editor in "the cow country" writes me that his readers are "tired of attacks on the late FDR."

"Many of them were still schoolchildren when 'our leader' died," says he. "To them, and to many older readers, your pieces sound like attacks on Jefferson Davis. Your quarrels with labor unions also suffer from too much emphasis on past history. People out here in the cow country don't care much about unions one way or another, anyhow."

Here are two divisions of one criticism.

It is true that many of his readers were in school when the Hyde Park Mahatma died, but our journalism still owes them knowledge which they never heard in school nor anywhere else and which college students of today are denied as though it were blasphemy. Other millions of the best young Americans were away at the big war and out of touch with sources of information.

Furthermore, many of those sources suppressed historical knowledge which ought to have been presented at the time. Great areas of population, such as Minneapolis, St. Paul, Louisville and St. Louis, learned nothing about many perfidies of individuals in the White House. Many millions of citizens in those cities who were adults when Roosevelt came in are still ignorant of facts which, for the good of their citizenship, they should know.

I have wondered whether the press of Grant's time currently disclosed the corruption which distinguished his reign as the worst down to the Roosevelt-Truman era. I never heard of it in school. I read about it first in historical political biographies beginning in the middle 'twenties. I suspect that many of the people who lived then went to their graves without learning truth to which they were entitled.

But Grant's administrations were of routine importance by comparison with the Roosevelt-Truman era. Virtue had won a victory partly at the instigation and under the management of scoundrels from the north. Our country became, more and more, a solid nation with the states gradually losing their identity, integrity and sovereignty. But now that nation itself is rapidly forfeiting its solid sovereignty and large elements of the Roosevelt-Truman regime, with great financial backing and conspiratorial cunning, are disparaging patriotism as detestable bigotry. People who should be furious at Egbert Murrow and his fabulously rich American industrial patrons for daring to minimize the conduct of J. Robert Oppenheimer are not even displeased. Much of the newspaper and magazine press has been guilty of intentional apathy under a fraudulent excuse of broadmindedness. I know why Oppenheimer has been forgiven and I think my friend, the editor, does, too.

Did anyone put up a similar fight for George Sylvester Viereck, William Griffin and 40 other passionate pro-Americans when they were transported in chains, reviled, spat upon, tortured and, in some cases, sent to prison for opposing military suc-

Final Easter Seal Appeal

A final plea to New York state residents who have not yet made their contributions to the 1955 Easter Seal Appeal was made today by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, who is general chairman of the Appeal in the Empire State.

"The future of thousands of crippled children depends upon the success of this campaign," Dr. Peale declared.

"IF THE NEW YORK State Association for Crippled Children, the sponsor of the Easter Seal Appeal, is to continue its support of rehabilitation centers, clinics, sheltered workshops and camping programs which it is now helping, it requires the fullest support of the public."

The noted clergyman urged residents of the community to participate in the campaign before its close so that the Association's goal of $600,000 might be reached by Easter Sunday, April 10.

"A great many individuals have already come to depend upon Easter Seal funds," he said. "Last year alone, over 19,000 handicapped persons received help at Easter Seal facilities, centers and services, and it is a certainty that the number will be still higher in the current year.

"SINCE WORLD WAR 2 the New York State Association has made the greatest strides in its 31-year history of service, but the tremendous increase in demands for similar services from communities over the state indicate that disease and accidents are taking a greater toll than they have ever before. This requires—now—a still greater effort in the fields of treatment, training and rehabilitation."

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., April 7—Although the Fulbright Investigation of the stock market is over—probably to the benefit of all concerned—I continue to have questions from readers. Most of these are in regard to the Dow-Jones Industrial Average.

This is what seems to trouble readers most. First, they note that the Dow-Jones Industrial Average has "gone up" or "gone down" four points—for instance—and yet not one of the 30 stocks included in this "Average" has varied this amount! They say: "Wall Street accounting is worse than Truman accounting!"

Another thing bothering stock-minded readers is that from one day to the next this so-called "Average" will move faster and further than what they claim to be the "honest Average." They write me: "No wonder Bernard N. Baruch is reported to have indicated that readers had better forget following the newspaper accounts of Wall Street because by the time the market makes the front page all the wise guys have left the premises with the money."

THE DAY-TO-DAY changes in the Dow Averages are magnified. In the case of the Industrials, if—on a straight mathematical average—the market prices of the stocks were up 1 point, the net change shown by the Dow Average release would be up by more than 5 points! The reason for the magnification of changes is that the Dow Averages are no longer arithmetic averages. That is, instead of taking the aggregate value of the 30 stocks in the series and then dividing the sum by 30, they now take the aggregate value and use an adjusted divisor which at the present time is 5.76. Thus, the daily change in the Average is actually magnified in a ratio of 30 to 5.76, or about 5.2 to 1.

THIS METHOD of computing the daily Average is to save time, yet preserve the historical continuity of the Average. Under the old method they adjusted each stock in the series for stock splits before computing the daily Average. Under the present method, no such adjustments are made for the individual stocks—the adjustments are made in the divisor. In this way, there is no need to make a great many computations to adjust for the various splits that have taken place over the years.

The present method is satisfactory and simple—the divisor itself is changed from time to time as splits and stock dividends occur. In fact, when this "divisor" idea was first used, the figure was 12.7, whereas the figure now used is 5.76. They first computed the sum of the market prices of the 30 stocks in the series adjusted for splits. The next step was to compute the Average by dividing this adjusted sum of the prices by the number of stocks in the series (i.e., 30). Then the next step was to add together the market prices of the 30 stocks (with no adjustments), and divide this figure by the adjusted Average. The net result was the divisor. The divisor now used to determine the Average at the various times of the day has been computed in this fashion.

LETTERS HAVE also come to me asking how and when margin requirements have been changed during the past 20 years. Here are the facts regarding these: April 1, 1936, through Oct. 31, 1937, General Rule — 55%; Nov. 1, 1937, through Feb. 4, 1945, General Rule — 40%; Feb. 5, 1945, through July 4, 1945, General Rules — 50%; July 5, 1945, through Jan. 20, 1946, General Rule—75%; Jan. 21, 1946, through Jan. 31, 1947, General Rule—100%; Feb. 1, 1947, through March 20, 1949, General Rule — 75% March 30, 1949, through Jan. 16, 1951, General Rule—50%; Jan. 17, 1951, through Feb. 20, 1953, General Rule—75%; Feb. 20, 1953, to Jan. 4, 1955, General Rule—50%; Jan. 4, 1955, to date, General Rule—60%.

Margin requirements are set by the Federal Reserve Board, and are therefore an instrument of overall control. Changes are made as part of a broad Federal Reserve Policy.

Shokan, April 7 — Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin Cowles of Woodstock were callers in the village Wednesday. Mrs. Cowles, who was brought up at Boiceville, is a granddaughter of James Wilson, Olive Civil War veteran, and of Lyman Smith, an employe of Matthews & North in pre-waterworks days.

Ed Finn of Kingston was a caller in Shokan Wednesday.

Early spring trucking on Route 28 indicates a record traffic over this busy highway during the coming summer. East bound cargoes of lumber are of frequent occurrence and the trucking of logs to the Shandaken sawmills continues unabated. Tourists here from New Haven Monday opined the opening of the new bridge across the Hudson will bring many more New England people to this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Gray of Stone Ridge called here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Yurkulak have sold their Route 28 new house near the Reformed Church to Mr. and Mrs. Michel DeRoss of Kingston. Rudy is now planning the construction of another house along the state road on land which formerly was the Charles Greene pasture field.

The east bound mail now leaves the local post office at 11 a. m. instead of 9 a. m.

A party of antique collectors from Honesdale, Pa., were in town Sunday. They came by way of Hancock, Delaware county, and planned to return to their home in the one time western terminus of the famed old Delaware & Hudson Canal through Orange county. The visitors had heard the Catskills spoken of as a happy hunting ground for collectors and they were not a little disappointed at finding no shops on Route 28 until reaching Shokan.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

I believe it was Harry Truman who stated: "If you can't take the heat, get out of the kitchen." He didn't say what made it hot, but I presume he was referring to taxes. Evidently, he thought no one should grumble. For prior to the present Administration, the kitchen had been getting hotter for twenty years.

Mr. Hutton

Truman, the politician, and his pal, the New Dealer, were the greatest spenders in the world's history.

The Fair Deal continued the New Deal. And business failed to inform the citizens, on and off the street, as to how the Dealers were taking the Constitution from the people.

You cannot expect people to defend that which they do not understand. Their judgment is only as good as their information.

Industrial management, with a few exceptions, remained in the kitchen and took the heat, while the Daelers continued to substitute Socialism for the Constitution.

Ike campaigned against "whole-hog" Government. He has reduced the tax heat. Should the people fail to support him, we are doomed to still bigger Government, more taxes and a further drift from the Constitution and its Bill of Rights.

It was the Constitution that was being cooked in the kitchen.

Neighbor, any person attemping to change our Constitution, other than by Constitutional law, is a traitor and, in my opinion, should be tried for treason.

Tillson Teen-Agers Give $44 to Heart

Wallkill, April 7—The Ulster County Heart Chapter received $44.60 from the treasury of a group of teen-agers of Tillson known as the Tillson Heirs.

This organization has been operating under the guidance of Mrs. Daniel McMonagle of Tillson for some time, carrying on an organized program of work and play in the community. Recently they sponsored a dance and planned half of the proceeds for the Heart Fund and its program throughout Ulster county.

Because of other commitments the club found it necessary to disband for the present and voted their entire treasury to the Heart Fund.

The 1955 Heart Fund of Ulster County has now reached a total of $9,200 with responses to the letter appeal still being received. Memoriam contributions, paying thoughtful tribute to deceased relatives, associates and friends are received and accepted the full year around by the Heart Chapter.

The Auxiliary of the Rose-Sheeley Post of the American Legion will meet Monday, April 11, at 8 p. m., in the Community Room of the Valley National Bank.

Hostesses for this meeting will be Mrs. Everett Cameron, Mrs. Malcolm Van Demark and Miss Lottie VanDemark.

The Family Pot luckers met and enjoyed a luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clifford Caswell. Those attending were Mrs. Florence Sherwood, Mrs. Roberta Van Wagenen, Mrs. Lucille Quick, Mrs. Edna Masten, Mrs. Lulu Masten, Mrs. Iris Bellarosa, Mrs. Edna Barriman, Mrs. Allie Sohn, Mrs. Jennie Bobbington, Mrs. Lizzie Conklin and Miss Georgia Crowell.

At the Tuesday night meeting of the Ivanhoe Lodge of the Knights of Pythias, results of the series of pinochle tournaments played during the year showed that Chauncey H. McLean again will receive the trophy for winning the most games.

New candidates were voted on and within a week or so the first rank will be conferred upon them.

It was reported that $26.05, was cleared on the public card party held Friday evening. The semi-annual roast beef dinner will be held Wednesday, April 20, at the Wallkill Reformed Church Hall. Tickets will be available from lodge members.

Telephone men from 7 companies work side by side to restore phone service after Millerton fire

New central office takes shape a block away from burned-out Millerton telephone exchange.

Town's link with outside world falls victim to fire.

Emergency phones open to public 12 hours after fire.

Independent company's phones quickly brought back into telephone network that serves State

On March 23, fire swept through the telephone office of the Copake Telephone Company in Millerton, N. Y., completely isolating the town.

The Copake Company is one of nearly one hundred independent telephone companies in New York State. It has no financial connection with the Bell System or any other independent company.

Yet when disaster struck, six companies—three Bell and three independent—rushed in men and equipment to help the Copake Company get its phones back in service.

Men from New York Telephone Company were there, along with others from Southern New England Telephone Company, Western Electric Company, Berkshire Telephone Corporation, Orange County Telephone Company, Germantown Telephone Company and the Copake Company itself. Within 12 hours emergency service was available and crews were working around the clock to restore full service.

When any community's telephones are silenced, the service of customers in every other company may be affected.

We of New York Telephone Company maintain close contact with all of the independent companies in the State. Our lines connect with theirs. Every day thousands of calls go from one area to another. And we do everything possible to make sure your call goes through quickly and clearly, no matter who you call—or where you call.

I have my savings account with the RONDOUT NATIONAL BANK . . . and I'll tell you why

It is so convenient to deposit part of my pay check each Friday when I finish work — as you know, the Rondout National Bank is the only commercial bank in Kingston where every Friday you may make a deposit or cash a check at any time from 9 a. m. to 7:30 p. m.

And when transacting business at the Rondout National Bank there is no trouble to find a place to park—without leaving your car you may make a deposit or cash a check at the drive in tellers window or if you prefer banking inside, use their convenient customer parking lot.

And while making my savings account deposit I also pay my Christmas Club, make a payment on my car loan, and deposit the balance in my checking account.

Believe me, there is nothing like having every banking service available where you maintain a savings account—and no other bank offers more complete and convenient banking service than the —

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., April 7—Although the Fulbright Investigation of the stock market is over—probably to the benefit of all concerned—I continue to have questions from readers. Most of these are in regard to the Dow-Jones Industrial Average.

This is what seems to trouble readers most. First, they note that the Dow-Jones Industrial Average has "gone up" or "gone down" four points—for instance—and yet not one of the 30 stocks included in this "Average" has varied this amount! They say: "Wall Street accounting is worse than Truman accounting!"

Another thing bothering stock-minded readers is that from one day to the next this so-called "Average" will move faster and further than what they claim to be the "honest Average." They write me: "No wonder Bernard N. Baruch is reported to have indicated that readers had better forget following the newspaper accounts of Wall Street because by the time the market makes the front page all the wise guys have left the premises with the money."

THE DAY-TO-DAY changes in the Dow Averages are magnified. In the case of the Industrials, if—on a straight mathematical average—the market prices of the stocks were up 1 point, the net change shown by the Dow Average release would be up by more than 5 points! The reason for the magnification of changes is that the Dow Averages are no longer arithmetic averages. That is, instead of taking the aggregate value of the 30 stocks in the series and then dividing the sum by 30, they now take the aggregate value and use an adjusted divisor which at the present time is 5.76. Thus, the daily change in the Average is actually magnified in a ratio of 30 to 5.76, or about 5.2 to 1.

THIS METHOD of computing the daily Average is to save time, yet preserve the historical continuity of the Average. Under the old method they adjusted each stock in the series for stock splits before computing the daily Average. Under the present method, no such adjustments are made for the individual stocks—the adjustments are made in the divisor. In this way, there is no need to make a great many computations to adjust for the various splits that have taken place over the years.

The present method is satisfactory and simple—the divisor itself is changed from time to time as splits and stock dividends occur. In fact, when this "divisor" idea was first used, the figure was 12.7, whereas the figure now used is 5.76. They first computed the sum of the market prices of the 30 stocks in the series adjusted for splits. The next step was to compute the Average by dividing this adjusted sum of the prices by the number of stocks in the series (i.e., 30). Then the next step was to add together the market prices of the 30 stocks (with no adjustments), and divide this figure by the adjusted Average. The net result was the divisor. The divisor now used to determine the Average at the various times of the day has been computed in this fashion.

LETTERS HAVE also come to me asking how and when margin requirements have been changed during the past 20 years. Here are the facts regarding these: April 1, 1936, through Oct. 31, 1937, General Rule — 55%; Nov. 1, 1937, through Feb. 4, 1945, General Rule — 40%; Feb. 5, 1945, through July 4, 1945, General Rules — 50%; July 5, 1945, through Jan. 20, 1946, General Rule—75%; Jan. 21, 1946, through Jan. 31, 1947, General Rule—100%; Feb. 1, 1947, through March 20, 1949, General Rule — 75% March 30, 1949, through Jan. 16, 1951, General Rule—50%; Jan. 17, 1951, through Feb. 20, 1953, General Rule—75%; Feb. 20, 1953, to Jan. 4, 1955, General Rule—50%; Jan. 4, 1955, to date, General Rule—60%.

Margin requirements are set by the Federal Reserve Board, and are therefore an instrument of overall control. Changes are made as part of a broad Federal Reserve Policy.

Shokan

Shokan, April 7 — Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin Cowles of Woodstock were callers in the village Wednesday. Mrs. Cowles, who was brought up at Boiceville, is a granddaughter of James Wilson, Olive Civil War veteran, and of Lyman Smith, an employe of Matthews & North in pre-waterworks days.

Ed Finn of Kingston was a caller in Shokan Wednesday.

Clyde Winchell returned home March 29 from Florida where he spent several weeks in Tampa and St. Petersburg. Clyde, who saw four big parades in Tampa including one by Shriners from all Florida and parts of Georgia, reports the west coast resorts swarming with tourists during February and March.

Early spring trucking on Route 28 indicates a record traffic over this busy highway during the coming summer. East bound cargoes of lumber are of frequent occurrence and the trucking of logs to the Shandaken sawmills continues unabated. Tourists here from New Haven Monday opined the opening of the new bridge across the Hudson will bring many more New England people to this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Gray of Stone Ridge called here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Yurkulak have sold their Route 28 new house near the Reformed Church to Mr. and Mrs. Michel DeRoss of Kingston. Rudy is now planning the construction of another house along the state road on land which formerly was the Charles Greene pasture field.

The east bound mail now leaves the local post office at 11 a. m. instead of 9 a. m.

A party of antique collectors from Honesdale, Pa., were in town Sunday. They came by way of Hancock, Delaware county, and planned to return to their home in the one time western terminus of the famed old Delaware & Hudson Canal through Orange county. The visitors had heard the Catskills spoken of as a happy hunting ground for collectors and they were not a little disappointed at finding no shops on Route 28 until reaching Shokan.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

I believe it was Harry Truman who stated: "If you can't take the heat, get out of the kitchen." He didn't say what made it hot, but I presume he was referring to taxes. Evidently, he thought no one should grumble. For prior to the present Administration, the kitchen had been getting hotter for twenty years.

Mr. Hutton

Truman, the politician, and his pal, the New Dealer, were the greatest spenders in the world's history.

The Fair Deal continued the New Deal. And business failed to inform the citizens, on and off the street, as to how the Dealers were taking the Constitution from the people.

You cannot expect people to defend that which they do not understand. Their judgment is only as good as their information.

Industrial management, with a few exceptions, remained in the kitchen and took the heat, while the Daelers continued to substitute Socialism for the Constitution.

Ike campaigned against "whole-hog" Government. He has reduced the tax heat. Should the people fail to support him, we are doomed to still bigger Government, more taxes and a further drift from the Constitution and its Bill of Rights.

It was the Constitution that was being cooked in the kitchen.

Neighbor, any person attemping to change our Constitution, other than by Constitutional law, is a traitor and, in my opinion, should be tried for treason.

Tillson Teen-Agers Give $44 to Heart

Wallkill, April 7—The Ulster County Heart Chapter received $44.60 from the treasury of a group of teen-agers of Tillson known as the Tillson Heirs.

This organization has been operating under the guidance of Mrs. Daniel McMonagle of Tillson for some time, carrying on an organized program of work and play in the community. Recently they sponsored a dance and planned half of the proceeds for the Heart Fund and its program throughout Ulster county.

Because of other commitments the club found it necessary to disband for the present and voted their entire treasury to the Heart Fund.

The 1955 Heart Fund of Ulster County has now reached a total of $9,200 with responses to the letter appeal still being received. Memoriam contributions, paying thoughtful tribute to deceased relatives, associates and friends are received and accepted the full year around by the Heart Chapter.

The Auxiliary of the Rose-Sheeley Post of the American Legion will meet Monday, April 11, at 8 p. m., in the Community Room of the Valley National Bank.

Hostesses for this meeting will be Mrs. Everett Cameron, Mrs. Malcolm Van Demark and Miss Lottie VanDemark.

The Family Pot luckers met and enjoyed a luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clifford Caswell. Those attending were Mrs. Florence Sherwood, Mrs. Roberta Van Wagenen, Mrs. Lucille Quick, Mrs. Edna Masten, Mrs. Lulu Masten, Mrs. Iris Bellarosa, Mrs. Edna Barriman, Mrs. Allie Sohn, Mrs. Jennie Bobbington, Mrs. Lizzie Conklin and Miss Georgia Crowell.

At the Tuesday night meeting of the Ivanhoe Lodge of the Knights of Pythias, results of the series of pinochle tournaments played during the year showed that Chauncey H. McLean again will receive the trophy for winning the most games.

New candidates were voted on and within a week or so the first rank will be conferred upon them.

It was reported that $26.05, was cleared on the public card party held Friday evening. The semi-annual roast beef dinner will be held Wednesday, April 20, at the Wallkill Reformed Church Hall. Tickets will be available from lodge members.

Telephone men from 7 companies work side by side to restore phone service after Millerton fire

New central office takes shape a block away from burned-out Millerton telephone exchange.

Town's link with outside world falls victim to fire.

Emergency phones open to public 12 hours after fire.

Independent company's phones quickly brought back into telephone network that serves State

On March 23, fire swept through the telephone office of the Copake Telephone Company in Millerton, N. Y., completely isolating the town.

The Copake Company is one of nearly one hundred independent telephone companies in New York State. It has no financial connection with the Bell System or any other independent company.

Yet when disaster struck, six companies—three Bell and three independent—rushed in men and equipment to help the Copake Company get its phones back in service.

Men from New York Telephone Company were there, along with others from Southern New England Telephone Company, Western Electric Company, Berkshire Telephone Corporation, Orange County Telephone Company, Germantown Telephone Company and the Copake Company itself. Within 12 hours emergency service was available and crews were working around the clock to restore full service.

When any community's telephones are silenced, the service of customers in every other company may be affected.

We of New York Telephone Company maintain close contact with all of the independent companies in the State. Our lines connect with theirs. Every day thousands of calls go from one area to another. And we do everything possible to make sure your call goes through quickly and clearly, no matter who you call—or where you call.

Tom Shultis Was 100% Right About the Weather!

I personally admire Mr. Shultis for his wisdom. He is really a genius at weather predicting, for he predicted not only a mild winter, but a windy one, and was correct in both. I have never met him but I would be very glad to have his visit and devote my knowledge as a chef to preparing a good meal for him and his family whenever he decides to visit me. I would never have the pretension to match Mr. Shultis in predicting the weather, but, if I ever try again, I hope I will do a better job than I did this time!

I am the soup maker he mentioned on the front page of the Freeman, April 6, who advised you to store a lot of LES POMMIERS French-Style Onion Soup, as we were going to have a tough winter, a prediction I based on the squirrels who were storing nuts. As it turned out, Mr. Shultis' prediction of a mild winter was so right that I sold more Consomme Madrilene (a cold soup) last winter than ever before.

BUT MR. SHULTIS IS WRONG ABOUT ONE THING! You would never be stuck with LES POMMIERS Onion Soup, no matter what the weather. Once you taste it, you would never want to be without it. It is good any time of the year for lunch or as a first course at dinner. It is nourishing and non-fattening. It keeps indefinitely and even improves the longer it is in the can. Mr. Shultis predicts a cool summer, so that is the more reason for you to buy LES POMMIERS Onion Soup to meet that chilly breeze.

Now LES POMMIERS has something else to help you simplify your meal planning. We have just put on the market an assortment of stews in the individual size (7-oz.) cans, with more meat in every can than you could buy from any wholesale butcher for the same price, plus five different kinds of vegetables, which gives you a complete balanced dinner, prepared for you by a world renowned chef, all ready for you to heat and serve. We also have a BEANS AND BACON Dinner, a delicious treat never packed in such style before by anybody. Look for these products at the Smith Avenue Bull Market and Giustino's Broadway Market, and ask other grocers to stock them.

I would also like to announce that LES POMMIERS is now open to cater to banquets, specializing in beef only, all government inspected meat from our own Boston packing house. The price per dinner for banquets is $2.00 for sirloin steak, filet mignon, or sirloin roast beef, and $1.75 for beef burgundy stew. The beef burgundy stew and sirloin roast beef are served family style, all you can eat. The sirloin steak and filet mignon are served individually, with a very generous portion. This price includes soup, coffee, and dessert. We can accommodate 200 people.

Our regular dinners will start the first of May, every Friday, Saturday and Sunday only during the month of May, at $1.50 for sirloin steak or filet mignon blue plate and 95c for beef burgundy stew en casserole. Mr. Shultis predicts a dry summer and a shortage of water, so if you are thirsty, come to LES POMMIERS. We have a well-stocked bar and plenty of cold beer and the largest concrete swimming pool in New York State, where we have a license for 1200 people at a time.

Tom Shultis Was 100% Right About the Weather!

I personally admire Mr. Shultis for his wisdom. He is really a genius at weather predicting, for he predicted not only a mild winter, but a windy one, and was correct in both. I have never met him but I would be very glad to have his visit and devote my knowledge as a chef to preparing a good meal for him and his family whenever he decides to visit me. I would never have the pretension to match Mr. Shultis in predicting the weather, but, if I ever try again, I hope I will do a better job than I did this time!

I am the soup maker he mentioned on the front page of the Freeman, April 6, who advised you to store a lot of LES POMMIERS French-Style Onion Soup, as we were going to have a tough winter, a prediction I based on the squirrels who were storing nuts. As it turned out, Mr. Shultis' prediction of a mild winter was so right that I sold more Consomme Madrilene (a cold soup) last winter than ever before.

BUT MR. SHULTIS IS WRONG ABOUT ONE THING! You would never be stuck with LES POMMIERS Onion Soup, no matter what the weather. Once you taste it, you would never want to be without it. It is good any time of the year for lunch or as a first course at dinner. It is nourishing and non-fattening. It keeps indefinitely and even improves the longer it is in the can. Mr. Shultis predicts a cool summer, so that is the more reason for you to buy LES POMMIERS Onion Soup to meet that chilly breeze.

Now LES POMMIERS has something else to help you simplify your meal planning. We have just put on the market an assortment of stews in the individual size (7-oz.) cans, with more meat in every can than you could buy from any wholesale butcher for the same price, plus five different kinds of vegetables, which gives you a complete balanced dinner, prepared for you by a world renowned chef, all ready for you to heat and serve. We also have a BEANS AND BACON Dinner, a delicious treat never packed in such style before by anybody. Look for these products at the Smith Avenue Bull Market and Giustino's Broadway Market, and ask other grocers to stock them.

I would also like to announce that LES POMMIERS is now open to cater to banquets, specializing in beef only, all government inspected meat from our own Boston packing house. The price per dinner for banquets is $2.00 for sirloin steak, filet mignon, or sirloin roast beef, and $1.75 for beef burgundy stew. The beef burgundy stew and sirloin roast beef are served family style, all you can eat. The sirloin steak and filet mignon are served individually, with a very generous portion. This price includes soup, coffee, and dessert. We can accommodate 200 people.

Our regular dinners will start the first of May, every Friday, Saturday and Sunday only during the month of May, at $1.50 for sirloin steak or filet mignon blue plate and 95c for beef burgundy stew en casserole. Mr. Shultis predicts a dry summer and a shortage of water, so if you are thirsty, come to LES POMMIERS. We have a well-stocked bar and plenty of cold beer and the largest concrete swimming pool in New York State, where we have a license for 1200 people at a time.

If declarer covers the ten of spades with the jack, your partner will win with the king and return a spade; and then you can force out the ace and still command the suit, since you have the queen-eight behind declarer's nine of spades.

In short, whatever declarer does, you are sure to establish the spades. Moreover, you will gain the lead with the ace of diamonds in time to set the contract.

Note that you wouldn't defeat the contract if you began the spades by leading any card other than the ten.

If you led the eight or deuce, for example, dummy would play low. Your partner would have to play the king; and then dummy's ace-jack would act as a double stopper.

If you began with the queen of spades, dummy would put up the ace at once. You would then be given your diamond trick, and you would have no way to establish and cash the spades.

Note that you wouldn't defeat the contract if you began the spades by leading any card other than the ten.

If you led the eight or deuce, for example, dummy would play low. Your partner would have to play the king; and then dummy's ace-jack would act as a double stopper.

If you began with the queen of spades, dummy would put up the ace at once. You would then be given your diamond trick, and you would have no way to establish and cash the spades.

Why We Say--

Persons who cannot write today usually substitute a cross mark "X" for their signatures. However, the custom started as a symbol of faith. The early Christians used this cross sign after proper names to show their religious devotion.

A pretty young girl was selling poppies in front of an office building, and one of the men whom she asked to buy a poppy stopped to talk to her. Finally he agreed to buy a flower if she would tell him where she worked. She said she was a nurse.

Business Man—Well, if I buy a poppy will you nurse me if I ever get sick?

Nurse (sweetly)—If you come to my hospital.

Business Man—Where is your hospital?

Nurse—I'm at Queen Anne's Maternity.

A typical California story is the favorite of President Ellis M. Studebaker of La Verne College, in La Verne, Calif.

Way back in 1848, during the gold rush, some people from Iowa moved to California. From there they sent postcards and oranges to their friends—an old California custom. The receivers of these kindly mementos also moved to California, and the process of sending post cards and oranges were repeated. More friends in Iowa moved to California until, in the course of years, it has come to pass that the only people left in Iowa are those who cannot read or write, or who do not like oranges.

Television has made a wonderful change in American conversation. There's less of it.

As Pegler Sees It

cor to Britain, France and Soviet Russia? No. The bulk of the press tolerated this outrage to the point of implied approval. And yet, much of that same press has been having hysterics over our impoliteness to an arrogant scientist who lied about his knowledge of the traitorous movement, married one Communist, shacked up with another and gave money to finance a conspiracy against our country.

Ah! There goes Pegler again, wandering all over the place! But is he wandering or is he right on the beam? This affectionate pity for a man claiming gigantic mental powers is an evil dividend from FDR. If Jeff Davis was of evil genius, as I gravely doubt, he certainly was thwarted. Roosevelt, on the contrary, had his wicked way: And those young Americans who were in school when he died must sacrifice much of the most beautiful time of their lives to compulsory military service although we are in a technical sense at peace. Their grandchildren will toil to pay taxes to pay for gifts of railroads and factories to our enemy, Soviet Russia, and to maintain a war machine made necessary by the folly, if not worse, of Roosevelt and Truman. My response from many readers who take the trouble to write thoughtful letters indicates that they are not "tired of attacks on the late FDR." It astounds them to learn how bad he was because the teachers never tell them.

The indifference of people "in the cow country" toward unions surely must be charged to ignorance. The press surely has a duty to apprise them, whether they enjoy it or not, that the union monster taxes them every day. If taxes their babies' shoes and clothing, every morsel of food they buy, the construction and maintenance of their roads, their cars and their farm machinery. The monster is everywhere. Right now it is negotiating with the grand magnates of the motor industry to levy another great tax on all the people including those "in the cow country" to pay not a mere dole or "relief" to idle factory employes but normal wages. This is called the guaranteed annual wage. The more the public pays toward this, out of taxes, the less the motor industry will have to pay. The industry naturally will prefer that the public treasury should pay it all.

I challenge the proposition that journalism should consider whether people "care one way or another." It is our duty to offer information.

To Speak During Easter Morning Stadium Service

THERON CHASTAIN

The Rev. Theron Chastain, Ph.D., will preach the sermon at the Easter dawn service at Dietz Memorial Stadium Easter Sunday at 6:30 a. m. The annual sunrise event is provided for the Christian community by the Kingston Ministerial Association.

Dr. Chastain is executive secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission Society, an office which he has held since 1953. He is a native of Indian Territory, now the state of Oklahoma and holds degrees from the College of the Pacific in Stockton, Calif., and from the Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Ky.

Always active in community religious affairs, Dr. Chastain pioneered religious education under the released time plan in the schools of Santa Barbara, Calif., and was active in the development of the Arizona State Council of Churches and served as its president. He has been a member of the American Baptist Board of Education and Publication and the Board of Trustees of Redlands University and the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School in California.

THE SOCIETY which he serves as executive secretary has more than 800 missionary-appointees serving in 400 fields in 34 states as well as Alaska, Cuba, Haiti, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Nicaragua and El Salvador.

The Ministerial Association extends a cordial invitation to the people of the area to join in the early morning service.

The service will be conducted by the Rev. Donald E. Brown, president of the Kingston Ministerial Association assisted by the Rev. Clyde H. Snell and the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool. Music for the service will be provided by the Messiah Chorus, a group of Kingston area church people, who will lead the assembled congregation in the singing of Easter carols and will sing the Hallelujah Chorus from The Messiah. The group is under the direction of Donald Romme with accompaniment by Gloria Massa.

Dr. McMahon Dies

Norwalk, Conn., April 8 (AP)—Dr. John D. McMahon, 44, brother of the late Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn.), died last night. He was Norwalk's medical examiner. Dr. McMahon leaves his widow, Helen; a son, John Jr.; a daughter, Eugenie; his mother, Mrs. William McMahon Sr.; two sisters, Eileen McMahon and Mrs. Eugenie Burr, all of Norwalk; and a brother, Dr. William McMahon, chief of staff at Norwalk Hospital.

Astor Asks Custody

New York, April 8 (AP)—John Jacob Astor has taken legal action seeking to gain custody of 6-year-old Mary Jacqueline, his daughter by his second marriage. Astor obtained a writ of habeas corpus yesterday in State Suprem Court, charging the child is being held virtually incommunicado from him. A hearing was scheduled for April 21. The 43-year-old millionaire married Gertrude Gretsch, the girl's mother, in 1944. They separated last May and he obtained a Mexican divorce in July. The second Mrs. Astor filed a countersuit for separation, charging Astor's Mexican divorce was not legal. Astor's marriage last August to the former Dolores Fullman broke up in six weeks.

Study Radiation

Washington, April 8 (AP) — A study aimed at finding where the truth lies in widely varying opinions about the effects of radiation from atomic blasts on mankind generally will be made by the National Academy of Sciences. Announcing this last night, the academy noted that "wide differences of opinion regarding the nature and degree of human hazards involved in the use of atomic energy have been revealed by . . . prominent scientists and laymen." These range from statements that radiation well removed from an atomic explosion carries no more threat than an ordinary X-ray to contentions that repeated nuclear tests are building up effects which could damage future generations by causing biological changes in humans.

Results of surveys made for the American Cancer Society show that about two of every five American adults still do not know cancer is curable.

Exclusive Fashions No Longer Assured For Easter Paraders

BY DOROTHY ROE
(AP Women's Editor)

When America's well-dressed women step out in the Easter parade, few, if any, will be wearing one-of-a-kind costumes, whether they paid $25 or $1,500 for them.

THE RECENT embarrassment over the almost identical dresses of Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mrs. Durries Crane at a Washington tea points up the fact that in today's world of mass-produced fashions the first lady is no more certain than Judy O'Grady that she won't meet herself walking down the street.

The dresses worn by Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Crane were turned out by the New York wholesale firm of Parnis-Livingstone, a husband-and-wife team whose distaff side, Mollie Parnis, has designed most of the first lady's clothes since her return to America. But neither Mrs. Eisenhower nor Miss Parnis makes any pretenses that the dresses are exclusive. Some 90 copies of the current dress were made, to retail at about $110. Usually at least 200 dresses are cut in each style shown by a wholesale dress firm. These are sold to various stores around the country, each usually ordering a full range of sizes in each style.

HOWEVER, even if Mrs. Eisenhower had paid from $650 to $1,500 for a made-to-order dress, designed by one of the famous custom dress-makers of New York or Paris, she still would run the risk of meeting someone else wearing one like it.

At a recent important fashion luncheon in New York, four identical gowns in different colors were seen, all from the exclusive and expensive dressmaker, Charles James.

A WOMAN CAN PAY $1,000 for a custom-made suit from the Paris Salon of Christian Dior or Balenciaga, and if it is one of the important styles of the current collection, she can be fairly sure that a number of other well-heeled women will have ordered the same suit.

"The only time I ever splurged $900 on a custom-made suit from Dior in Paris," says the same Mollie Parnis, "I met another woman wearing the identical suit at a luncheon, the first time I wore it."

The day of one-of-a-kind, fashions, designed for and worn by one woman only, has been past for some time. In the days before World War I some of the great couturiers of Paris would design individual creations for special customers, and then tear up the pattern. But this has not been the case in years since.

PARIS CUSTOM designers create a group of new fashions each season, and show the models to selected groups of private customers and buyers for stores and dress manufacturing firms throughout the world. The commercial buyers usually pay a sizeable fee for the privilege of seeing the collections, and then buy models to be copied by their own firms. Thus the $1,000 Paris suit soon is being turned out by American manufacturers in mass production to sell for $50 to $100.

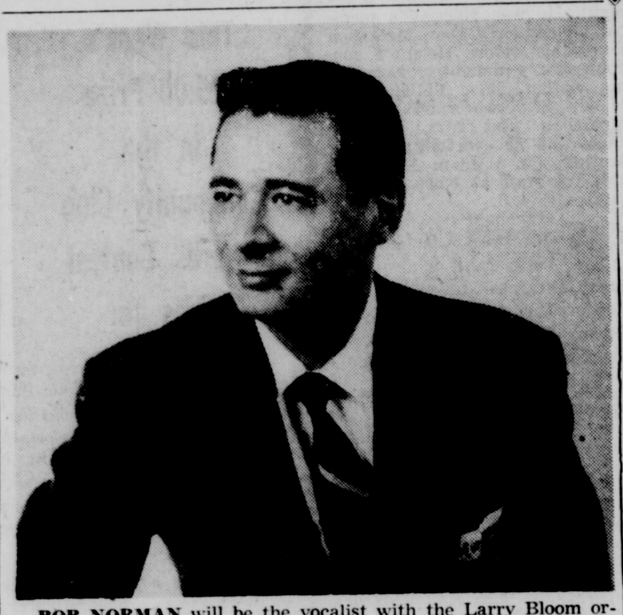

Private customers who order from the collections have the garments made to order, and are assured of perfect fit, but not of exclusivity. For anyone who is invited to view a collection is privileged to order any style shown.

So about the only way you can be sure you have a completely exclusive dress, and that nobody else will have one like it, is to design and make it yourself—or have your own ideas worked out by the little dressmaker around the corner.

EXCLUSIVITY is something hard to come by these days, and it has no price tag.

17 Students Accepted Into Nursing School In Kingston Hospital Capping Exercises

Seventeen students were formally accepted into the School of Nursing at the Kingston Hospital Thursday, March 24. Capping exercises were held to mark the satisfactory completion of the six months preclinical class work. At this time the students were given the cap of the school and publicly accepted for the remainder of the three-year course in nursing.

The Nightingale lamps and lighted candles were given to each student by the hospital. They were presented by a member of the senior class and are a symbol of the light which Florence Nightingale shed on the world of nursing in the dark days of the Crimean War in 1854.

The Rev. Clyde Snell spoke to the group using the three A's—Adjustment, Achievement and Attitudes — as his theme. He showed how one follows the other in development and pointed out the importance of each in arriving successfully at the goal of good professional nursing.

The Glee Club, which has been under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Branigan for the last three years, renedered four beautiful selections which were enjoyed by the guests.

There were over 150 friends and relatives of the nurses present who remained for a social hour following the program.

A feature of the evening was the appearance of the red rose corsages which had been presented by the class to their mothers and several members of the faculty preceding the program.

In the Capping exercises were: Jeannine Carpenter, Joyce Domanico, Helen Farrell and Naomi Lurie of Kingston; Erika Aey, Phoenicia; Marilyn Craft, Shirley Vedder, Saugerties; Betty Jane Dargan, Catskill; Jewel Farrow, New Paltz; June Smith, West Coxsackie; Rose J. Bellino, Bovina Center; Marie Bromm, Nanuet; Anna Gray, Betty Lang, Canton; Grace Klemm, Liberty; and Barbara Walko, Yonkers.

SHE LIKES TO READ

A young woman asks: "Will you please tell me how I can avoid having to talk to casual acquaintances when I would rather read? After I finish my lunch I like to go up to the lounge (or roof garden when the weather permits) and read a book or magazine for the remainder of my lunch hour. No sooner do I get interested in my book when someone I know comes and sits alongside of me and starts a conversation. I do not like to be rude, so I close the book, or magazine, and proceed to listen to things in which I am not the least bit interested. Is there a polite way out of this situation?"

Those who have to read in a place not protected by a "no talking" rule are at the mercy of anyone who chooses to interrupt them with conversation and there is little they can do about it. The real point to make is, of course, that those who see people engrossed in a book or magazine or otherwise occupied should not interrupt. My only suggestion to you is to surround yourself by others who are reading or who are strangers to you and not likely to start a conversation. In other words, before you sit down, be sure there are no vacant chairs next to you for anyone to sit on and start a conversation.

Shower Before Date Is Set

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine has recently become engaged but no date has been set for the wedding as her fiance is in the service. I would like to give a shower for her some time soon but wonder if it would be proper to give it before the wedding date has been set.

Answer: While there is no definite rule about this, I think it would be wiser for you to wait until the date of the wedding has been set.

Alighting From Bus

Dear Mrs. Post: I have noticed lately that many men, after riding with a woman on a bus, allow her to get off first then follow. Isn't the correct procedure for the man to get off first then help her off?

Answer: Correctly he goes first and then turns and offers her his hand.

Have you given yourself an etiquette test lately? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-18, includes answers to questions most frequently asked. Good Taste Today

SHE LIKES TO READ

A young woman asks: "Will you please tell me how I can avoid having to talk to casual acquaintances when I would rather read? After I finish my lunch I like to go up to the lounge (or roof garden when the weather permits) and read a book or magazine for the remainder of my lunch hour. No sooner do I get interested in my book when someone I know comes and sits alongside of me and starts a conversation. I do not like to be rude, so I close the book, or magazine, and proceed to listen to things in which I am not the least bit interested. Is there a polite way out of this situation?"

Those who have to read in a place not protected by a "no talking" rule are at the mercy of anyone who chooses to interrupt them with conversation and there is little they can do about it. The real point to make is, of course, that those who see people engrossed in a book or magazine or otherwise occupied should not interrupt. My only suggestion to you is to surround yourself by others who are reading or who are strangers to you and not likely to start a conversation. In other words, before you sit down, be sure there are no vacant chairs next to you for anyone to sit on and start a conversation.

Shower Before Date Is Set

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine has recently become engaged but no date has been set for the wedding as her fiance is in the service. I would like to give a shower for her some time soon but wonder if it would be proper to give it before the wedding date has been set.

Answer: While there is no definite rule about this, I think it would be wiser for you to wait until the date of the wedding has been set.

Alighting From Bus

Dear Mrs. Post: I have noticed lately that many men, after riding with a woman on a bus, allow her to get off first then follow. Isn't the correct procedure for the man to get off first then help her off?

Answer: Correctly he goes first and then turns and offers her his hand.

Have you given yourself an etiquette test lately? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-18, includes answers to questions most frequently asked. Committee Asks How Magazine Obtained Report

Washington, April 8 (AP)—A House Armed Services subcommittee today set out to learn why a magazine has published details of a report on military waste that the subcommittee has been unable to obtain.

Chairman Herbert (D.-La.) said the subcommittee so far has been unable to obtain a report on the findings of a Hoover Commission task force which studied purchasing practices in the armed services.

But the report, he added in an interview, apparently is the basis for an article in the current Readers Digest, titled "Ridiculous Waste in the Armed Services," by W. L. White.

He said White may be summoned to testify in the inquiry.

"THIS ISSUE of the magazine went to press in early February," Herbert said. "But this subcommittee, which is charged with investigating military waste, still has no copy of the report."

John Hollister, executive director of the Hoover Commission, explained the situation to newsmen Wednesday in commenting on a similar complaint by Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas.

He said the report originally was scheduled to go to Congress in March, but was delayed and actually will not be issued for three or four more weeks. He said the magazine article contains some of the factual information but not the conclusions.

"Our report and conclusions are under the seal of confidence until sent to Congress," he said.

HE EXPLAINED that some factual information was given to White and perhaps to other magazine writers for articles to appear after the scheduled formal March report to Congress. But the delay of the formal report permitted the magazine article to appear first, Hollister said.

The article also contained some information from a commission study of government transportation, which was released last Monday.

Thomas said in New York Tuesday that the commission refused to give him a copy of the report. He termed the article "inaccurate" and said he resented its charges that the military services are sabotaging unification.

Hebert said this is the first commission report on military questions that his subcommittee has been unable to obtain.

He said a formal letter requesting the report has been sent to Hollister.

Committee Asks How Magazine Obtained Report

Washington, April 8 (AP)—A House Armed Services subcommittee today set out to learn why a magazine has published details of a report on military waste that the subcommittee has been unable to obtain.

Chairman Herbert (D.-La.) said the subcommittee so far has been unable to obtain a report on the findings of a Hoover Commission task force which studied purchasing practices in the armed services.

But the report, he added in an interview, apparently is the basis for an article in the current Readers Digest, titled "Ridiculous Waste in the Armed Services," by W. L. White.

He said White may be summoned to testify in the inquiry.

"THIS ISSUE of the magazine went to press in early February," Herbert said. "But this subcommittee, which is charged with investigating military waste, still has no copy of the report."

John Hollister, executive director of the Hoover Commission, explained the situation to newsmen Wednesday in commenting on a similar complaint by Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas.

He said the report originally was scheduled to go to Congress in March, but was delayed and actually will not be issued for three or four more weeks. He said the magazine article contains some of the factual information but not the conclusions.

"Our report and conclusions are under the seal of confidence until sent to Congress," he said.

HE EXPLAINED that some factual information was given to White and perhaps to other magazine writers for articles to appear after the scheduled formal March report to Congress. But the delay of the formal report permitted the magazine article to appear first, Hollister said.

The article also contained some information from a commission study of government transportation, which was released last Monday.

Thomas said in New York Tuesday that the commission refused to give him a copy of the report. He termed the article "inaccurate" and said he resented its charges that the military services are sabotaging unification.

Hebert said this is the first commission report on military questions that his subcommittee has been unable to obtain.

He said a formal letter requesting the report has been sent to Hollister.

County Streams in Excellent Condition for Trout Opening

Esopus Reported In Good Shape; Waters Cold

Ashokan Is High But Fishable

Ulster county's horde of anglers, poised for the opening of the 1955 season Saturday, will find cold streams but generally excellent fishing conditions.

This is the last minute survey of Dick Kahill of the Rainbow Lodge of Mt. Tremper, one of the area's top trout experts.

State Conservation Department officials, in their statewide forecasts, also predicted good prospects for creel limits.

KAHILL REPORTS stream temperatures between 38 and 40 degrees, not warm, but sunshine weather is almost certain and good takes can be expected. The portal at Shandaken is off and will remain off over the first weekend and probably for an indefinite period.

The Ashokan reservoir is higher than normal but still fishable, Kahill said. The side streams are also in good condition.

THE ESOPUS, below the mouth of the Chichester is cloudy, because of recent rains and the Chichester itself is not too clean at the present time. Above Phoenicia, the Esopus is in excellent condition.

(Editor's Note: In a recent column on trout conditions, it was reported that of the 60,000 fish stocked in the Esopus, all except 3,500 were Rainbows. This was in error, as the bulk were Brownies and not Rainbows, as reported.)

Anglers turned in heartening reports to the Conservation Department after the season for all species of trout opened a week ago on a number of Finger Lakes tributaries, including the popular Catharine creek.

April 1 also was the season opener for Lake trout, landlocked salmon and whitefish throughout the state. Good catches were reported from the shore at the south end of Lake George.

The wintry weather has left many northern lakes coated with ice. Conservation men said that the layer on Raquette lake and the northern end of Lake George was reported to be a foot thick.

CREEL AND SIZE limits are unchanged from last year. Generally, trout must be seven inches long except in the 12 Adirondack counties, where they may be taken at six inches. The bag is 10 a day.

Rainbows taken in the Finger lakes section must be 15 inches long. The bag is three a day.

Game protectors who checked the catches at Catharine creek on opening day reported trout of 14 to 16 pounds. Two game men checking one section of the stream said they counted 130.

THE FLY FISHERMEN the "purists" of the sport, have been assigned short stretches of four of the better streams in the state.

In these areas, which are marked by posters, trout may be taken only with unweighted, single-hooked artificial dry or wet flies, bucktails, nymphs and streamer flies.

Conservation Commissioner Louis A. Wehle has designated the section on the Bouquet and east branch Ausable rivers in Essex county, Kinderhook creek in Rensselaer and Columbia counties, and Willowemoc creek in Sullivan county.

Keglers Give $144 for Polio

Kingston keglers contributed $144.54 to the 1955 March of Dimes fund, Addison Jones, campaign chairman has announced.

Local men's bowling loops donated $134.54 while the Kingston Women's Bowling Association helped the fund with $10.

Fort Wayne Takes Lead

Indianapolis, April 8 (AP)—The Fort Wayne Pistons took a 3-2 lead over Syracuse in the National Basketball Assn. playoff last night, winning 74-71 by getting their last two points on free throws five minutes after the final whistle.

The victory gave them three straight over the sagging Nats, but they still have to win the big one at Syracuse, where they have lost 29 straight.

THEY MEET AGAIN in a televised game Saturday afternoon. If the home floor charm holds for the Nats in that one they'll settle the title at Syracuse Sunday night.

Last night Syracuse was down 15 points at 60-45 with 10 minutes to play but roared into contention at 72-71 with 1:15 left. The teams traded misses and then Frankie Brian was fouled as the whistle blew. The crowd swarmed onto the floor as Coach Al Cervi of Syracuse scuffled with a fan, and spectators lined the free throw lane as Brian made his extra tosses.

Dancer Equals Track Record

Westbury, April 8 (AP)—Stanley Dancer, who trains his harness racing trotters and pacers at New Egypt, N. J. During the winter instead of going south, found the 38-degree temperature to his liking at Roosevelt Raceway last night. He won four of the 8 races and finished second in three others.

The 27-year-old sulkyman won the fourth race with Mr. Prince Dale $3.60, the fifth with Bear Cat $20, the sixth with Ceyway $5 and the 8th with Chocolate Chip $6.20. He finished second with Zinna Boy in the first, Scotch Byrd in the third and Blondie Hanover in the 7th.

Dancer, who several years ago drove five winners in one night at Yonkers Raceway, equalled a Roosevelt record set by John Simpson and Curly Smart in 1950 with his four triumphs His three consecutive wins also equalled the track record made by Simpson and Jimmy Cruise last year.

J. Kuehn's 553 Leads in Telco

J. Kuehn knocked 553, with a high of 208, to pace last night's session of the Telco League.

Other "500" shooters were J. Halbert 528, and Stan Petro 516.

P. Werner hit 429, Art Eymann 483, H. Bellswinger 487, J. Bowers 430, W. Johnson 455, R. Kimble 493, R. Lang 478, Jake Ennis 447, Warren Vogt 469, Mike Kachigan 424, R. Tremper 464.

Few Opening Hurlers Have Gone the Route

By ED WILKS, The Associated Press

Only three of the 16 pitchers who probably will be on the mound in next week's major league openers have gone a full nine innings in this spring's exhibition games—and only one of the three came off with a victory.

Brooklyn's Carl Erskine and Philadelphia's Robin Roberts are the only National League openers to go all the way. In the American League, Cleveland's Bob Lemon is all by himself, although New York's Whitey Ford entered the ninth but left with nobody out in a losing decision.

Erskine alone won, shutting out Washington 6-0 with difficulty Wednesday.

Roberts went nine Sunday, but lost to Boston 4-2. Lemon missed against the New York Giants 5-1 Tuesday.

HERE'S WHAT the probable opening day pitcher did in their last exhibition appearances (1954 records in parentheses):

BALTIMORE — Lou Kretlow (6-11), gave up six hits in eight innings to beat Pittsburgh 3-2 Wednesday.

BOSTON—Mel Parnell (3-7) or Frank Sullivan (15-12). Parnell last worked March 31, giving up two runs in seven innings to beat Philadelphia 6-4. He's been nursing an injured right knee since. Sullivan went eight innings yesterday, allowing one hit in the first four frames, but missed the decision as Philadelphia won in the 10th 4-3.

CHICAGO — Virgil Trucks (19-12) went seven innings against St. Louis yesterday, left with a 6-5 lead after a four-run fourth in which the Card's Bill Virdon hit a three-run homer. Sox won in ninth 7-6.

CLEVELAND — Bob Lemon (23-7) gave up nine hits, three of them homers, in a 9-inning defeat by Giants Tuesday 5-1. Monte Irvin made his second homer good for three-runs to break 1-1 tie in ninth.

DETROIT — Ned Garver (14-11) blanked Atlanta of Southern Assn. 8-0 on two hits in a six-inning game Sunday.

KANSAS CITY—Alex Kellner (6-17) went seven innings, gave up nine hits, walked two and fanned eight in 5-2 defeat by Norfolk of Class B Piedmont League yesterday. Smacked for two-run homer in four-run fourth inning.

NEW YORK — Whitey Ford (16-8) left in ninth with bases loaded, leading 4-3 against Atlanta last Friday. Charged with 5-4 defeat.

WASHINGTON — Bob Porterfield (13-15) worked five innings, gave up eight hits and five runs Wednesday as Brooklyn won 6-0.

(National League)

BROOKLYN — Carl Erskine 18-15) gave up 10 hits, but shut out Washington 6-0 Wednesday. Retired 11 in row while becoming first to hurl nine-inning shutout among major league pitchers this spring.

CHICAGO—Bob Rush (13-15) gave up run and joined with Bob Thorpe to defeat Beaumont of Texas League on four hits 2-1 Monday, working seven innings.

CINCINNATI — Art Fowler (12-10) worked last five innings but missed decision in 9-1 victory over Lynchburg, Class B Piedmont League, yesterday.

MILWAUKEE—Warren Spahn (21-12) went seven innings, gave up a first inning run and was credited with 2-1 victory over Detroit Wednesday.

NEW YORK — Johnny Antonelli (21-12) has been idle more than a week, cut finger shaving Monday, scheduled against Boston today.

PHILADELPHIA — Robin Roberts (23-15) pitched seven innings, gave up six hits and left trailing 2-1 on Norm Zauchin's two-run homer as Phils beat Boston in 10th 4-3 yesterday.

PITTSBURGH—Max Surkont (9-18) hurled six innings, gave up three runs, but missed decision in 9-8 victory over Baltimore Monday.

ST. LOUIS—Brooks Lawrence (15-6) gave up three runs in fifth before leaving with 4-3 lead over White Sox yesterday in game won by Chicago 7-6.

Baltimore got just two hits, but Bob Purkey's eight walks in eight innings and two Pittsburgh errors handed the Orioles a 2-1 victory.

The Giants tied it up in the eighth with four runs following Al Rosen's boot of a doubleplay ball and then scored the winning run in the ninth on reliefer Bill Wight's wild pitch to beat Cleveland 6-5. It was the final game in the New York-Cleveland spring series, which ended in a 9-9 split.

Phil Rizzuto had three hits, including his second homer in two days, and played well afield as the Yankees whipped Richmond of the International League 17-4.

Cold weather knocked out two games: Milwaukee-Detroit at Toledo, Ohio, and Brooklyn at Washington.

Gilligan Has Solid Background for Post As KHS Cage Coach

When John J. Gilligan assumes his duties as Kingston High's first new basketball coach in 29 years, he will bring a solid background of athletic experience to the post vacated by G. Warren Kias this week.

The 31-year-old native of Woodside, L. I. has been coach of the basketball Jayvees for the past four years during which time they won 59 games and lost only 14 for a splendid winning percentage of .800.

GILLIGAN CAME to Kingston High from Classical High School in Springfield, Mass., where he was assistant coach of basketball.

Born in Woodside on Jan. 28, 1924, he attended St. Sebastian's grade school and entered La Salle Academy in 1939. He played two years of varsity basketball and baseball there and La Salle won the Metropolitan basketball title in 1941.

Gilligan was awarded an athletic scholarship to Princeton for baseball and basketball in 1942 but enlisted in the navy instead. While at Great Lakes Naval Station, he played on the Fire Control School basketball team which won the divisional championship.

JOHN J. GILLIGAN

UPON HIS DISCHARGE from navy, he entered Westchester State Teachers College in Pennsylvania. He played varsity basketball and baseball player and at the end of the second year was signed by the Keene, N. H., a New York Yankee farm in the collegiate Class B Northern League.

Gilligan then transferred to Springfield College where he was awarded a Masters degree in education.

Regarded as a strict fundamentalist, Gilligan's teams have exhibited trademarks of varying defenses and offenses. He is a keen student of the game and a worthy successor to the legendary Kias.

Working in Gilligan's favor is the fact that several of this year's Jayvee stars — Bob Smith, Tony Grimaldi, Tony Turck, Mel Williams and others —will move up to the varsity next fall.

County Streams in Excellent Condition for Trout Opening

Esopus Reported In Good Shape; Waters Cold

Ashokan Is High But Fishable

Ulster county's horde of anglers, poised for the opening of the 1955 season Saturday, will find cold streams but generally excellent fishing conditions.

This is the last minute survey of Dick Kahill of the Rainbow Lodge of Mt. Tremper, one of the area's top trout experts.

State Conservation Department officials, in their statewide forecasts, also predicted good prospects for creel limits.

KAHILL REPORTS stream temperatures between 38 and 40 degrees, not warm, but sunshine weather is almost certain and good takes can be expected. The portal at Shandaken is off and will remain off over the first weekend and probably for an indefinite period.

The Ashokan reservoir is higher than normal but still fishable, Kahill said. The side streams are also in good condition.

THE ESOPUS, below the mouth of the Chichester is cloudy, because of recent rains and the Chichester itself is not too clean at the present time. Above Phoenicia, the Esopus is in excellent condition.

(Editor's Note: In a recent column on trout conditions, it was reported that of the 60,000 fish stocked in the Esopus, all except 3,500 were Rainbows. This was in error, as the bulk were Brownies and not Rainbows, as reported.)

Anglers turned in heartening reports to the Conservation Department after the season for all species of trout opened a week ago on a number of Finger Lakes tributaries, including the popular Catharine creek.

April 1 also was the season opener for Lake trout, landlocked salmon and whitefish throughout the state. Good catches were reported from the shore at the south end of Lake George.

The wintry weather has left many northern lakes coated with ice. Conservation men said that the layer on Raquette lake and the northern end of Lake George was reported to be a foot thick.

CREEL AND SIZE limits are unchanged from last year. Generally, trout must be seven inches long except in the 12 Adirondack counties, where they may be taken at six inches. The bag is 10 a day.

Rainbows taken in the Finger lakes section must be 15 inches long. The bag is three a day.

Game protectors who checked the catches at Catharine creek on opening day reported trout of 14 to 16 pounds. Two game men checking one section of the stream said they counted 130.

THE FLY FISHERMEN the "purists" of the sport, have been assigned short stretches of four of the better streams in the state.

In these areas, which are marked by posters, trout may be taken only with unweighted, single-hooked artificial dry or wet flies, bucktails, nymphs and streamer flies.

Conservation Commissioner Louis A. Wehle has designated the section on the Bouquet and east branch Ausable rivers in Essex county, Kinderhook creek in Rensselaer and Columbia counties, and Willowemoc creek in Sullivan county.

Keglers Give $144 for Polio

Kingston keglers contributed $144.54 to the 1955 March of Dimes fund, Addison Jones, campaign chairman has announced.

Local men's bowling loops donated $134.54 while the Kingston Women's Bowling Association helped the fund with $10.

Fort Wayne Takes Lead

Indianapolis, April 8 (AP)—The Fort Wayne Pistons took a 3-2 lead over Syracuse in the National Basketball Assn. playoff last night, winning 74-71 by getting their last two points on free throws five minutes after the final whistle.

The victory gave them three straight over the sagging Nats, but they still have to win the big one at Syracuse, where they have lost 29 straight.

THEY MEET AGAIN in a televised game Saturday afternoon. If the home floor charm holds for the Nats in that one they'll settle the title at Syracuse Sunday night.

Last night Syracuse was down 15 points at 60-45 with 10 minutes to play but roared into contention at 72-71 with 1:15 left. The teams traded misses and then Frankie Brian was fouled as the whistle blew. The crowd swarmed onto the floor as Coach Al Cervi of Syracuse scuffled with a fan, and spectators lined the free throw lane as Brian made his extra tosses.

Dancer Equals Track Record

Westbury, April 8 (AP)—Stanley Dancer, who trains his harness racing trotters and pacers at New Egypt, N. J. During the winter instead of going south, found the 38-degree temperature to his liking at Roosevelt Raceway last night. He won four of the 8 races and finished second in three others.

The 27-year-old sulkyman won the fourth race with Mr. Prince Dale $3.60, the fifth with Bear Cat $20, the sixth with Ceyway $5 and the 8th with Chocolate Chip $6.20. He finished second with Zinna Boy in the first, Scotch Byrd in the third and Blondie Hanover in the 7th.

Dancer, who several years ago drove five winners in one night at Yonkers Raceway, equalled a Roosevelt record set by John Simpson and Curly Smart in 1950 with his four triumphs His three consecutive wins also equalled the track record made by Simpson and Jimmy Cruise last year.

J. Kuehn's 553 Leads in Telco

J. Kuehn knocked 553, with a high of 208, to pace last night's session of the Telco League.

Other "500" shooters were J. Halbert 528, and Stan Petro 516.

P. Werner hit 429, Art Eymann 483, H. Bellswinger 487, J. Bowers 430, W. Johnson 455, R. Kimble 493, R. Lang 478, Jake Ennis 447, Warren Vogt 469, Mike Kachigan 424, R. Tremper 464.

Few Opening Hurlers Have Gone the Route

By ED WILKS, The Associated Press

Only three of the 16 pitchers who probably will be on the mound in next week's major league openers have gone a full nine innings in this spring's exhibition games—and only one of the three came off with a victory.

Brooklyn's Carl Erskine and Philadelphia's Robin Roberts are the only National League openers to go all the way. In the American League, Cleveland's Bob Lemon is all by himself, although New York's Whitey Ford entered the ninth but left with nobody out in a losing decision.

Erskine alone won, shutting out Washington 6-0 with difficulty Wednesday.

Roberts went nine Sunday, but lost to Boston 4-2. Lemon missed against the New York Giants 5-1 Tuesday.

HERE'S WHAT the probable opening day pitcher did in their last exhibition appearances (1954 records in parentheses):

BALTIMORE — Lou Kretlow (6-11), gave up six hits in eight innings to beat Pittsburgh 3-2 Wednesday.

BOSTON—Mel Parnell (3-7) or Frank Sullivan (15-12). Parnell last worked March 31, giving up two runs in seven innings to beat Philadelphia 6-4. He's been nursing an injured right knee since. Sullivan went eight innings yesterday, allowing one hit in the first four frames, but missed the decision as Philadelphia won in the 10th 4-3.

CHICAGO — Virgil Trucks (19-12) went seven innings against St. Louis yesterday, left with a 6-5 lead after a four-run fourth in which the Card's Bill Virdon hit a three-run homer. Sox won in ninth 7-6.

CLEVELAND — Bob Lemon (23-7) gave up nine hits, three of them homers, in a 9-inning defeat by Giants Tuesday 5-1. Monte Irvin made his second homer good for three-runs to break 1-1 tie in ninth.

DETROIT — Ned Garver (14-11) blanked Atlanta of Southern Assn. 8-0 on two hits in a six-inning game Sunday.

KANSAS CITY—Alex Kellner (6-17) went seven innings, gave up nine hits, walked two and fanned eight in 5-2 defeat by Norfolk of Class B Piedmont League yesterday. Smacked for two-run homer in four-run fourth inning.

NEW YORK — Whitey Ford (16-8) left in ninth with bases loaded, leading 4-3 against Atlanta last Friday. Charged with 5-4 defeat.

WASHINGTON — Bob Porterfield (13-15) worked five innings, gave up eight hits and five runs Wednesday as Brooklyn won 6-0.

(National League)

BROOKLYN — Carl Erskine 18-15) gave up 10 hits, but shut out Washington 6-0 Wednesday. Retired 11 in row while becoming first to hurl nine-inning shutout among major league pitchers this spring.

CHICAGO—Bob Rush (13-15) gave up run and joined with Bob Thorpe to defeat Beaumont of Texas League on four hits 2-1 Monday, working seven innings.

CINCINNATI — Art Fowler (12-10) worked last five innings but missed decision in 9-1 victory over Lynchburg, Class B Piedmont League, yesterday.

MILWAUKEE—Warren Spahn (21-12) went seven innings, gave up a first inning run and was credited with 2-1 victory over Detroit Wednesday.

NEW YORK — Johnny Antonelli (21-12) has been idle more than a week, cut finger shaving Monday, scheduled against Boston today.

PHILADELPHIA — Robin Roberts (23-15) pitched seven innings, gave up six hits and left trailing 2-1 on Norm Zauchin's two-run homer as Phils beat Boston in 10th 4-3 yesterday.

PITTSBURGH—Max Surkont (9-18) hurled six innings, gave up three runs, but missed decision in 9-8 victory over Baltimore Monday.

ST. LOUIS—Brooks Lawrence (15-6) gave up three runs in fifth before leaving with 4-3 lead over White Sox yesterday in game won by Chicago 7-6.

Baltimore got just two hits, but Bob Purkey's eight walks in eight innings and two Pittsburgh errors handed the Orioles a 2-1 victory.

The Giants tied it up in the eighth with four runs following Al Rosen's boot of a doubleplay ball and then scored the winning run in the ninth on reliefer Bill Wight's wild pitch to beat Cleveland 6-5. It was the final game in the New York-Cleveland spring series, which ended in a 9-9 split.

Phil Rizzuto had three hits, including his second homer in two days, and played well afield as the Yankees whipped Richmond of the International League 17-4.

Cold weather knocked out two games: Milwaukee-Detroit at Toledo, Ohio, and Brooklyn at Washington.

Gilligan Has Solid Background for Post As KHS Cage Coach

When John J. Gilligan assumes his duties as Kingston High's first new basketball coach in 29 years, he will bring a solid background of athletic experience to the post vacated by G. Warren Kias this week.

The 31-year-old native of Woodside, L. I. has been coach of the basketball Jayvees for the past four years during which time they won 59 games and lost only 14 for a splendid winning percentage of .800.

JOHN J. GILLIGAN

GILLIGAN CAME to Kingston High from Classical High School in Springfield, Mass., where he was assistant coach of basketball.

Born in Woodside on Jan. 28, 1924, he attended St. Sebastian's grade school and entered La Salle Academy in 1939. He played two years of varsity basketball and baseball there and La Salle won the Metropolitan basketball title in 1941.

Gilligan was awarded an athletic scholarship to Princeton for baseball and basketball in 1942 but enlisted in the navy instead. While at Great Lakes Naval Station, he played on the Fire Control School basketball team which won the divisional championship.

UPON HIS DISCHARGE from navy, he entered Westchester State Teachers College in Pennsylvania. He played varsity basketball and baseball player and at the end of the second year was signed by the Keene, N. H., a New York Yankee farm in the collegiate Class B Northern League.

Gilligan then transferred to Springfield College where he was awarded a Masters degree in education.

Regarded as a strict fundamentalist, Gilligan's teams have exhibited trademarks of varying defenses and offenses. He is a keen student of the game and a worthy successor to the legendary Kias.

Working in Gilligan's favor is the fact that several of this year's Jayvee stars — Bob Smith, Tony Grimaldi, Tony Turck, Mel Williams and others —will move up to the varsity next fall.

Burke Leads Masters With First Round 67

Augusta, Ga., April 8 (AP)—Jackie Burke is about ready to forgive the trophy collector who stole his putter last year. The handsome Texan tried a new one in the first round of the Masters golf tournament yesterday and it worked beautifully.

Burke finished in a tie for sixth here last year and a little later during an exhibition in Detroit someone walked off with his putter. Since then he has tested four or five in a search for one that suits him, he thinks "the straight piece of steel with a shaft" he is using here for the first time in a tournament is the answer.

At 32 a veteran of 11 years as a professional, Burke used his new blade to build up a four-stroke lead going into today's second round over the Augusta National's sprawling, challenging course.

COMBING FINE iron play and strong putting, Burke opened the 19th Masters with a 34-33—67. His closest competitors were Mike Souchak of Durham, N. C., the former Duke football player and fairhaired boy of the winter tour, and Julius Boros of Mid-Pines, N. C.

Souchak, playing with Burke, carded a 35-36—71 and Boros scored a 37-34—71.

Not another man in the field of 77, which includes most of the nation's top amateurs and professionals, managed to better the Augusta National's par of 36-36—72.

Defending champion Sam Snead, who matched Burke's 34 on the front nine, seemed a cinch to do it until he ran afoul a trap on No. 13 and took an 8 on the par-5 hole. Snead, who lost the 1939 National Open crown because of an 8 on the final hole, had to settle for par 72.

BEN HOGAN, the tourney favorite despite his playoff loss to Snead here last year, took a 73. Billy Joe Patton, the Morganton, N. C., amateur who came within a stroke of joining Snead and Hogan in their playoff a year ago, scored a fat 79.

Bracketed with Snead at 72 were Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, and Cary Middlecoff of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y. Joining Hogan with 73s were Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich.; Peter Cooper of Detroit, and Skee Riegel of Ithan, Pa.

Burke, hitting the greens consistently, picked up birdies on the front line with putts of 12 and 5 feet. A bad chip at No. 11 gave him his only bogey of the round. Then he got on in two and down in two for a birdie on the 13th and sank birdie putts of 20 and 6 feet on the next two holes. An 8-iron shot that stopped within 18 inches of the pin gave him his final bird on No. 17.

"I always play the percentages here," he said, "and trust to get the long putts. I like this course. It inspires you to play well."

Canadiens Snap Red Wing Streak

Montreal, April 8 (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens took new life today after their 4-2 victory over the Detroit Red Wings and Coach Dick Irvin promised: "We'll make it an interesting series yet."

The big man in the Canadiens' win—their first of the Stanley Cup best-of-seven finals against two losses—was Bernie (Boom-Boom) Geoffrion, who broke out of a long scoring slump to knock in three of the four goals.

The Red Wings won the series opener 4-2 and scored almost at will in raking up a 7-1 victory in the second game.

The loss snapped a 15-game winning streak by the Red Wings, a league record. Nine of Detroit's string came at the end of the regular season.

Tiger Jones 8-5 Over Johnson

St. Louis, April 8 (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones tonight risks his record of never having been knocked down against harder-hitting George Johnson, a counter puncher with a fast pair of hands.

Jones was rated an 8 to 5 favorite over Johnson, of Trenton, N. J., for the ten-round middleweight bout at the Arena.

The fight, sponsored by the International Boxing Club, will be nationally televised (NBC, 9 p. m., CST).

Would Extend Group

Trenton, N. J., April 8 (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner has signed a joint resolution of the State Legislature extending the life of the New Jersey Election Laws Study Commission for one more year. The resolution, signed yesterday, provides that the study commission may report to the Legislature at any time this year or at the beginning of the 1956 session. The commission, created in 1953, is working on simplification of the state's election laws.

Reports on Campaign

William T. Hookey Jr., chairman of the Red Cross membership and fund campaign in the town of Ulster, reports that the people who are soliciting subscriptions are doing an excellent job. However there are still a number of districts to be heard from, he said, such as Lucas avenue extension, Hurley avenue, Glenerie, Lake Park, Saugerties road from Neighborhood road north, River road, Brabrant road and Route 28. Anyone not called on and who wishes to make a contribution may contact the chairman, Mr. Hookey, Neighborhood road, Lake Katrine, or phone Kingston 7061 or the solicitor in the location.

Quake Is Felt

Manila, April 8 (AP)—A slight earthquake today was felt in Dumaguete City, capital of Negros Oriental Province in the south central Philippines, the Philippine News Service reported. The quake lasted 10 seconds at intensity one on a scale of nine. No damage or casualties were reported.

No other low-priced car even comes close to matching these important Chevrolet advantages . . .

If you're planning to buy a new car, the one you just can't afford to miss seeing is Chevrolet—for 19 straight years America's best-selling car. The Motoramic Chevrolet offers you so much more than the other low-priced cars that it's hardly fair to compare them. And even the high-priced cars don't have all the advantages that today's Chevrolet offers you.

The beauty's built in—not bolted on!
And that makes a big difference—not only in how your car looks today, but in how it will look tomorrow, too. Chevrolet's good looks spring from fine, clean, uncluttered design. The beauty is inherent in the basic contours of metal and glass. There's no excessive bolted-on ornamentation to go out of style overnight.

The Body's by Fisher!
No other low-priced car has a Body by Fisher—but many of the high-priced cars do. That fact alone tells you there must be something extra special about the style, quality and construction of Body by Fisher. And there is! You can see it, feel it and even hear it when you slam the door.

Today's most modern engines!
That goes for Chevrolet's new V8 and two new sixes as well. For example, all Chevrolet engines bring you a modern 12-volt electrical system—double the voltage of other low-priced cars. This means quicker cold weather starting and a greater electrical reserve. Then Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" has the shortest piston stroke in the industry, and develops the highest power per pound of any V8 in the low-price field. It takes valve-in-head leadership like Chevrolet's to bring you truly modern engines like these!

A drive to suit your driving!
You can take your choice of three different drives—and every one's as modern as this minute. There's silky, peppery Powerglide, new Overdrive (both extra-cost options), and a new Synchro-Mesh transmission that's as smooth as they come.

All the power helpers you want!
Windows, seat, steering, brakes—all are available with built-in "muscles" to make driving as effortless as you wish. And you can even have air conditioning if you like. These things are extra-cost options, of course, but they more than repay you with extra pleasure.

Fun is "standard equipment"!
You find that out the first time you take the wheel of a new Chevrolet. Here, you discover, is a car that takes the curves like it's on rails, that steers like it's reading your mind. It seems simply to ignore bumps—and when you stop suddenly, there's no excessive lurching or diving, either. There has never been such a difference in low-priced cars as there is today—or so many good reasons why you should drive a new Chevrolet. Come in and take the key.

Over Ten Million Chevrolet owners—Two Million more than any other car!

Burke Leads Masters With First Round 67

NBA Playoffs At-A-Glance

Thursday's Results

Fort Wayne 74, Syracuse 71 (Fort Wayne leads final best-of-seven series, 3-2).

Friday's Schedule

No game scheduled.

Saturday's Schedule

Fort Wayne at Syracuse (afternoon).

Augusta, Ga., April 8 (AP)—Jackie Burke is about ready to forgive the trophy collector who stole his putter last year. The handsome Texan tried a new one in the first round of the Masters golf tournament yesterday and it worked beautifully.

Burke finished in a tie for sixth here last year and a little later during an exhibition in Detroit someone walked off with his putter. Since then he has tested four or five in a search for one that suits him, he thinks "the straight piece of steel with a shaft" he is using here for the first time in a tournament is the answer.

At 32 a veteran of 11 years as a professional, Burke used his new blade to build up a four-stroke lead going into today's second round over the Augusta National's sprawling, challenging course.

COMBING FINE iron play and strong putting, Burke opened the 19th Masters with a 34-33—67. His closest competitors were Mike Souchak of Durham, N. C., the former Duke football player and fairhaired boy of the winter tour, and Julius Boros of Mid-Pines, N. C.

Souchak, playing with Burke, carded a 35-36—71 and Boros scored a 37-34—71.

Not another man in the field of 77, which includes most of the nation's top amateurs and professionals, managed to better the Augusta National's par of 36-36—72.

Defending champion Sam Snead, who matched Burke's 34 on the front nine, seemed a cinch to do it until he ran afoul a trap on No. 13 and took an 8 on the par-5 hole. Snead, who lost the 1939 National Open crown because of an 8 on the final hole, had to settle for par 72.

BEN HOGAN, the tourney favorite despite his playoff loss to Snead here last year, took a 73. Billy Joe Patton, the Morganton, N. C., amateur who came within a stroke of joining Snead and Hogan in their playoff a year ago, scored a fat 79.

Bracketed with Snead at 72 were Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, and Cary Middlecoff of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y. Joining Hogan with 73s were Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich.; Peter Cooper of Detroit, and Skee Riegel of Ithan, Pa.

Burke, hitting the greens consistently, picked up birdies on the front line with putts of 12 and 5 feet. A bad chip at No. 11 gave him his only bogey of the round. Then he got on in two and down in two for a birdie on the 13th and sank birdie putts of 20 and 6 feet on the next two holes. An 8-iron shot that stopped within 18 inches of the pin gave him his final bird on No. 17.

"I always play the percentages here," he said, "and trust to get the long putts. I like this course. It inspires you to play well."

Canadiens Snap Red Wing Streak

Montreal, April 8 (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens took new life today after their 4-2 victory over the Detroit Red Wings and Coach Dick Irvin promised: "We'll make it an interesting series yet."

The big man in the Canadiens' win—their first of the Stanley Cup best-of-seven finals against two losses—was Bernie (Boom-Boom) Geoffrion, who broke out of a long scoring slump to knock in three of the four goals.

The Red Wings won the series opener 4-2 and scored almost at will in raking up a 7-1 victory in the second game.

The loss snapped a 15-game winning streak by the Red Wings, a league record. Nine of Detroit's string came at the end of the regular season.

Three in Death House Lose Other Move for Trial

New York, April 8 (AP)—Three New York city men in the death house at Sing Sing prison for the holdup murder of a Readers Digest messenger at Chappaqua, N. Y., have lost another court move for a new trial.

The U. S. Court of Appeals yesterday upheld Federal District Judge Irving R. Kaufman's denial of their new trial application.

The three defendants, Nathan Wissner, Calman Cooper and Harry A. Stein, were sentenced to death in Westchester county court at White Plains for the shooting of Andrew Petrini, 30, in April, 1950. Their case has been fought up to the U. S. Supreme Court without success.

THE LATEST plea for reversal of the conviction was on the ground that the prosecution "planted" a Yiddish-speaking police officer near the defense table during the trial to "eavesdrop," and thus violated the defendants' right to the confidential lawyer-client relationship.

The unanimous opinion of the Appeals Court said:

"The police officer's presence in the court room with other peace officers is accounted for as an additional security measure taken when authorities received information which led them to believe that the prisoners contemplated an escape during a lunch period.

"It is fair to say that petitioners' evidence rests solely upon circumstances, inferences and suspicions. There is no positive evidence which supports the charge, the burden of which is on the petitioners.

"ALL PERSONS involved apparently recognized that lawyer-client privacy must yield within reasonable grounds to security measures. The petitioners' whole contention appears to be an afterthought, prompted by a magazine article and urged upon the court with the hope that circumstances and suspicions will prevail over positive evidence.

"The evidence here falls far short of the required showing of a denial of petitioners' fundamental rights."

The court's opinion was written by Judge Jerome N. Frank and was concurred in by Judges Harold R. Medina and Stephen W. Brennan.

Bankruptcy Petition Filed by Schwartz

New York, April 8 (Special)—Bernard Schwartz, formerly in the ladies' wear business under the trade name of "Arlene's" at 49 North Front street, Kingston, today filed a bankruptcy petition in Federal Court.

Schwartz, who previously lived at the Kingston address, now makes his home at 1408 Astor avenue, New York, and lists his occupation as salesman-clerk for a bakery in New York and a ladies' wear firm in White Plains, N. Y.

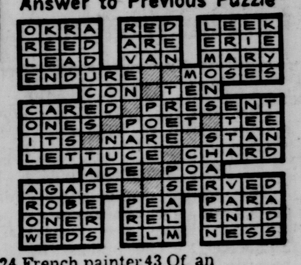

He has debts totaling $8,809, according to the petition, and assets amounting to $4.

Snyder to Speak

Frederic Snyder, lecturer, will be the speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church on Wednesday evening, April 13. The dinner meeting will be held at Bethany Hall, with service to start at 6:30 p. m.

Boston, April 8 (AP)—Both sides in a battle for control of the Boston and Maine Railroad today stepped up their proxy campaigns while waiting for resumption Monday of an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the possible future relationship of the B & M and the New Haven Railroad. Three in Death House Lose Other Move for Trial

New York, April 8 (AP)—Three New York city men in the death house at Sing Sing prison for the holdup murder of a Readers Digest messenger at Chappaqua, N. Y., have lost another court move for a new trial.

The U. S. Court of Appeals yesterday upheld Federal District Judge Irving R. Kaufman's denial of their new trial application.

The three defendants, Nathan Wissner, Calman Cooper and Harry A. Stein, were sentenced to death in Westchester county court at White Plains for the shooting of Andrew Petrini, 30, in April, 1950. Their case has been fought up to the U. S. Supreme Court without success.

THE LATEST plea for reversal of the conviction was on the ground that the prosecution "planted" a Yiddish-speaking police officer near the defense table during the trial to "eavesdrop," and thus violated the defendants' right to the confidential lawyer-client relationship.

The unanimous opinion of the Appeals Court said:

"The police officer's presence in the court room with other peace officers is accounted for as an additional security measure taken when authorities received information which led them to believe that the prisoners contemplated an escape during a lunch period.

"It is fair to say that petitioners' evidence rests solely upon circumstances, inferences and suspicions. There is no positive evidence which supports the charge, the burden of which is on the petitioners.

"ALL PERSONS involved apparently recognized that lawyer-client privacy must yield within reasonable grounds to security measures. The petitioners' whole contention appears to be an afterthought, prompted by a magazine article and urged upon the court with the hope that circumstances and suspicions will prevail over positive evidence.

"The evidence here falls far short of the required showing of a denial of petitioners' fundamental rights."

The court's opinion was written by Judge Jerome N. Frank and was concurred in by Judges Harold R. Medina and Stephen W. Brennan.

Bankruptcy Petition Filed by Schwartz

New York, April 8 (Special)—Bernard Schwartz, formerly in the ladies' wear business under the trade name of "Arlene's" at 49 North Front street, Kingston, today filed a bankruptcy petition in Federal Court.

Schwartz, who previously lived at the Kingston address, now makes his home at 1408 Astor avenue, New York, and lists his occupation as salesman-clerk for a bakery in New York and a ladies' wear firm in White Plains, N. Y.

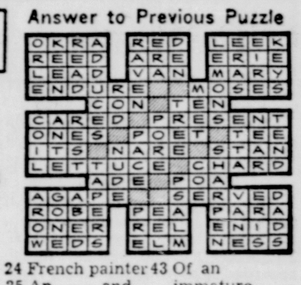

He has debts totaling $8,809, according to the petition, and assets amounting to $4.

Snyder to Speak

Frederic Snyder, lecturer, will be the speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church on Wednesday evening, April 13. The dinner meeting will be held at Bethany Hall, with service to start at 6:30 p. m.

Red Boss Blasts Farmers on Crops

Moscow, April 8 (AP)—Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev wound up a top level agricultural conference last night by chiding Soviet farmers for failing to show initiative in boosting their crop output.

The session, closing a three-day farm managers' parley in the Kremlin, was part of the mammoth Soviet campaign to boost lagging food production and especially the output of grain and livestock.

Khrushchev has been attending a number of such meetings throughout the Soviet Union, but the Kremlin conference took on particular importance in view of attendance by Premier Nikolai Bulganin, minister of electric power stations Georgi Malenkov and other top Soviet officials. The meeting was held for agricultural leaders of the Russian Republic, largest of the 16 Soviet Republics.

KHRUSHCHEV'S closing remarks were blunt and to the point. He said too many collective farm managers were relying on Moscow to do their thinking and warned that they had better learn quickly to use their own judgment.

Khrushchev said the general committee of the Communist party had spelled an end to strict centralization last January and had placed responsibility for most farm planning on the individual collective farms.

Under the new setup, he said, farmers had a chance to sow what crops they thought best for their own region. But, he said, too many had failed to meet the challenge and were content to follow blanket directives.

Red Boss Blasts Farmers on Crops

Moscow, April 8 (AP)—Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev wound up a top level agricultural conference last night by chiding Soviet farmers for failing to show initiative in boosting their crop output.

The session, closing a three-day farm managers' parley in the Kremlin, was part of the mammoth Soviet campaign to boost lagging food production and especially the output of grain and livestock.

Khrushchev has been attending a number of such meetings throughout the Soviet Union, but the Kremlin conference took on particular importance in view of attendance by Premier Nikolai Bulganin, minister of electric power stations Georgi Malenkov and other top Soviet officials. The meeting was held for agricultural leaders of the Russian Republic, largest of the 16 Soviet Republics.

KHRUSHCHEV'S closing remarks were blunt and to the point. He said too many collective farm managers were relying on Moscow to do their thinking and warned that they had better learn quickly to use their own judgment.

Khrushchev said the general committee of the Communist party had spelled an end to strict centralization last January and had placed responsibility for most farm planning on the individual collective farms.

Under the new setup, he said, farmers had a chance to sow what crops they thought best for their own region. But, he said, too many had failed to meet the challenge and were content to follow blanket directives.

No Changes Made

Franklin Pierce went through his entire term of office without a single cabinet change. The 14th President of the United States, he was in office from 1853 to 1857.
